EDITORIAL

"Australians all let us rejoice For we are young and free..."

Every Australian knows these two opening lines to our national anthem but how many, I wonder, ever actually think about the words when seeing them written before us or when we sing them (a rare occurrence these days)?

Over the last ten or fifteen years Australia has earned itself a name for apathy and for being indifferent to everything but the next meal ahead. Oh we do have some pride! We revel in our reputation as beer guzzling, bronzed "ockers" with the limited vocabulary of "Gidday mate" (but, mind, it must be said as Paul Hogan does!) and who all come from the same place as Skippy the Kangaroo. And, in short, that is our overseas reputation.

Ask any of the Great War veterans and they will say that modern Australians are a bunch of uncharacteristic people, who lack something when it comes to patriotism and whose apathy and attitude of "take, take and not give" will eventually destroy us. I say, ask them, because they were the men and women who were there when Australia was under threat and when Australia was truly young and free. They were the people who stood up and said "this is our chance to show the world that Australians are as good (if not better) than the next man in any arena". There was fierce pride in Australia and a great individuality was developing. It was during the two World Wars that our original reputation began evolving as hard fighting, honest Australians.

In today's society the language of Australia with all its idioms still remains but the stories and the heritage attached to them have all but been forgotten and all that remains as evidence is a bunch of old men who stand when "God Save the Queen" is played and who treat ladies with the respect they deserve, who march on ANZAC day with a look of determination and pride upon their faces. Something we, the later generations, don't understand.

There is hope for us yet. As our Bicentenary approaches, people are beginning to look in retrospect at our heritage and they are beginning to shake off the international domination that has seeped into out culture. As evidence, the people attending ANZAC services (an essential part of our history) over the last two or three years has increased dramatically as people begin to understand.

Similarly Hale School has been here almost since the beginning and we too have seen our ranks of young Old Boys decimated during the Great Wars as they left their home shores to fight and die in another country far from home.

Hale is a part of Australia's heritage as much as the First Fleet. Old Haleians were among the men killed and among the men who formed our individuality and who saved democracy and our way of life. Thus the school motto "Duty" and the national anthem takes on new meaning. For us Duty should be loyalty to the things that Old Haleians and all Australians fought for and should stand for pride in a new and free nation which is just approaching its 200th year. The increase of patriotism generated by the publicity of the Bicentenary and its projects should be continued on in earnest after the celebrations have finished and should show the world once again that we are still "fair dinkum blokes" who can still do a hard day's work and then, perhaps, once real pride is taken in our country, people will not have to be paid to work harder and better (which believe it or not was once the case when Australia was free of financial difficulty). People will want to work harder and better and start to put something back into this staggering nation of ours.

The Haleians of yesterday were among the ones to die for Australia. Surely the Haleians of today should be among the Australians to help improve our reputation and status by hard work and dedication.

Think carefully about the words next time you hear Advance Australia Fair or see the Hale School motto because Hale is a part of Australia's continuing heritage and we must convince ourselves and others that the future of Australia lies with us and this is where our "Duty" lies!

Faulkner Year 11. Co-Editor.

Adam Benson

The well known Hale Emblem is not entwined by Latin words, but simply with the motto — "Duty". This not only refers to duty to the School, but duty to do what is right and what is believed in.

This year, Hale's 129th, has seen the ground work laid for the newly established Hale School Foundation. This Foundation sets out to, importantly, secure the school's independence and to further develop its well being. It is through this new medium that 'Duty' is now being promoted, in all its senses, to maintain the objectives stipulated by Matthew Blagden Hale in 1858: that is, to provide -

. a centre of Christian learning based on the Anglican tradition.

. learning to serve the greater needs of Western Australia and Australia, and finally,

. to serve the needs of those in the bush as well as the city.

Hale School is an institution well worth believing in and one which requires continued support from all who have benefitted from the Hale School Community and its many services.

The case for support is indeed a strong one. Hale School does not offer just a "text book education" but a whole way of life. With over fifty extra — curricular activities that cater for all tastes, and the facilities at Wittenoom, the school encourages hard work and self discipline within an atmosphere which enables the development of important relationships with teahers and fellow students.

If Bishop Hale was alive today he would surely sense a feeling of deja vu in that the problems he faced last century are not unlike those of today. Bishop Hale establisshed the school with money from his own pocket as both the Church and the Colony at that time were too poor to support it. In 1987, escalating running costs alongside the threat of further reductions in Government funding place a school like Hale at risk, and it seems highly unlikely that the school will be blessed by an Act of Parliament as it was in 1876. Thus, the Foundation.

One hundred and twenty nine years ago when Bishop Hale set out to provide a sound education for the youth of the colony he must have thought it his duty, so must have many others following him as Hale undoubtedly continues to be the leading school that it is.

It is perhaps the DUTY of all of those who have benefited or are now benefiting from past efforts to ensure that the future of our School — its traditional philosophy, its standards, its educational excellence and unique character (collectively illustrated and recorded in "Cygnet") will continue to flourish. Whether you think you can or cannot contribute, right or wrong; the difference is you.

School Captain's Report

A common piece of advice concerning one's approach to a task is to apply oneself to the best of your ability — or to perform at your highest level possible.

At Hale all students are encouraged along these guidelines in the search to perform at their optimum level. Throughout 1987 (and in its preceding 130 years) most Hale students have discovered the rewards that are gained by disciplining themselves in pursuit of their goals. This is one of the legacies that extends from the motto of our school — "Duty". Duty to Hale, duty to our parents and to ourselves.

Indeed in witnessing the multitude of events and changes that have occurred at Hale in 1987, it would have been difficult to ignore the efforts of students in all fields, and the results of our efforts reflect the discipline that the students impose on themselves when representing the school — as individuals or as team members.

Whether as a student in the classroom or as a cultural or sporting representative, application and the spirit of participation have been the strength of our achievements, regardless of whether you are captain of the winning 1st V Basketball, or 12th man for a junior Cricket side — .BAll.B efforts have supported the long running spirit and traditions of Hale School.

One of the benefits of being the relatively small size of a Public School such as Hale, is the development of unity and comradeship which is positive and long lasting, which is a key factor when competing with other schools. In reviewing Term 1 of 1987, the success of our efforts can be attributed to the unity of various teams and organizations.

The Basketballers proved late last year that they were the dominant squad in P.S.A. competition, and this young and talented group, led by Brendon Barrows, went from strength to strength as the season continued. The team was amply rewarded with a deserving equal first placing with Trinity. Later in the year this team went on to play a statewide school competition final in front of a large crowd at the Superdrome, preceding a Wildcats match.

Tennis at Hale over the past five years has been regarded as the strength of our summer competition and this year has been no exception. Mark Leuba, Peter Faulkner, Simon Bladen and Ashley Johns led this competitive unit to successes against every other school except Christ Church. The attitude and commitment of the senior players has set the example for the younger players to continue Hale's competitiveness in this sport.

David Harris led the 1st XI Cricket through a mediocre season with the potential showing through late in the season. Many fine performances were recorded throughout the season. Simon Adonis completed a century against Christ Church, with David Harris and Kingsley Tringas also making solid contributions throughout the season. As in previous years, the professionalism of the coaches, in particular Mr Chadwick, was instrumental in developing and encouraging the talent of Hale's cricketers.

M. J. Morison, Captain of School, 1987.

The Rowers in all crews in 1987 experienced a difficult and interrupted season, particularly the 1st VIII who suffered injuries late in the season. Rowing is often not as well recognised by students as some some sports that occur within the school grounds. Yet these boys train as hard as any group and deserve credit for their efforts.

The event in Term 1 which has always attracted much attention at Hale is the Swimming. The 1987 season was characterized by many fine performances individually, with James Legge and Craig Ryan the outstanding swimmers of the year. Although the team was placed third on the night, the Hale squad gained great respect from fellow competitors and schools, as a squad who had competed to the utmost of their ability and the school should be as proud of its 1987 team as it has been proud of its teams in years past.

In March, Hale hosted some 150 Old Boys on their annual return to their old school. On these occasions, students gain insight into the strong association of which they will be a part after concluding their education at Hale. The day also allows the students to develop ideas of their future, which, as I hope for my year as in all other years, will retain strong links with Hale, and enable the school to develop with continued assistance from old students.

First term is a notoriously short term (as are most terms, with the new system introduced in 1986) yet in this time Drama, Debating and Chess organizations began preparations for performances in second term. With the onset of winter terms at Hale, cultural activities begin to take on an increasingly important aspect in our calendar.

After several months of production under the careful co-ordination of Mr Hopkins, one hundred or so students presented an original performance of "Googooewon — The Place of Trees". This contemporary comedy ranks highly with the previous five other original productions, thanks to some experienced contributions from Simon Bladen, Peter Maidment and Andrew Mutzig, as well as some refreshing theatrics by a talented staff member.

Drama productions at Hale are probably one of the finest examples of commitment and determination by all involved, from the cast to the backstage crew and the musicians in the pit. After this year's unique plot I look forward to next year's play.

A smaller, though equally dedicated, group of students at Hale this year represented the school in various Chess competitions. Without doubt Jason Field, a year nine boy, has talents beyond his age, for as well as securing many wins for Hale across the year, Jason was invited to play in the World Championships in Vienna during the year. Many junior players at Hale also show talent in this activity which is a positive sign for future seasons.

Junior students at Hale have also impressed many with their scholastic ability, for along with Senior students, these boys have competed in many academic competitions including: the Westpac Maths Competition; the National Science Competition and Computer and Chemistry team events, and also in the Alliance Francaise. In all these events Hale students have recieved many fine results for which they deserve acknowledgement and praise.

Many other groups worked during first and second term on various projects and competitions. Hale again competed with strength in the West Australia Debating League, with many fine performances displayed. Christian Porter, Mark Mallabone and Nick McKenna were a formidable combination, as was our year eleven team.

Another conscientious group was the Rottnest Reafforestation team who, over the year, planted 2000 trees, and spent several days repairing the natural environments of Herdman's Lake and Rottnest Island.

Second Term, along with third term, witnessed the broad cross-section of winter sports, which in 1987 included a new P.S.A. sport at Hale, that being Soccer.

Although a dedicated group, the Soccer Team lacked the experience of other schools, yet the likes of James Willoughby and Kinsley Khoo ensured the team enjoyed an eventful season. A highlight of winter sport was Hale's continued association in the Interstate Carnival, with Hale this year hosting (in conjunction with St. Mary's) two other schools — St Leonards (Melbourne) and Scotch (Adelaide) — for a week of social competition. The 1st XVIII footballers, led by the experienced talents of Brendan Barrows, David Harris, Rob Morrison and Brett Slocombe, successfully returned the Fisher Plate into Hale's possession.

As it always does, this team showed that they were competitive throughout the season, with a highlight being the match at Aquinas, where Hale fought determinedly as a unit and secured second place in the Alcock Cup competition. An indication of the spirit of Hale competitors is epitomized by our footballers, whether Year eight, 2nd or 1st XVIII. Every Saturday during the season, the halftime address to and by the players only stands to further strengthen this spirit.

Peter Faulkner led the !st XI Hockey by example throughout the interrupted winter season and along with Mark Mallabone and Ashley Johns guided a young side to fourth place. Possibily without the semester break dividing the season, this side could have emulated last year's team's position.

Rugby, as any 1st XV member will quickly point out, is a physically demanding sport in which to participate. The 1987 season reflected this fact only too well — with the team continually hindered by injury. Yet this brigade fought many close tussles, with the Wesley match being the pinnacle of the year — where the team lost by one point to the eventual competition winners, in the final minutes of the game.

Again in 1987 the Cross Country has suffered because of the lack of numbers. This area of sport is perhaps the unluckiest of all at Hale, for with the introduction of the Soccer team, the Cross Country has suffered. Regardless of this factor Hale has some talented runners such as Sam McDonagh and Courtney Davison.

There is no doubt that sport at Hale gives the opportunity for many talented competitors to represent Hale, at very skilled levels. Yet there must be a reason for our success in so many fields. This fact can be attributed to the strength of our House sport competition. By this I refer to the standards shown in our House Swimming and Athletics as well as House Basketball, Cricket and Football. With these weekly opportunities in competition situations combined with the training that teams undergo, Hale has a sound basis on which to build its competitiveness.

Perhaps the most memorable sporting event of the year has been the fantastic success of Hale's athletes. Hale attained its highest ranking for some years in finishing second to Aquinas in late October at the Inters. This success came after a season of committed training and the development of individual talents such as Heath Gillard, Kent Turkich and Scott Dethlefsen. All senior team members and squad coaches can take much of the credit for moulding the team and guiding it towards second place. Can we go one better next year?

Throughout second and third term Hale once again conducted its annual Wittenoom programme. The opportunity that Wittenoom creates for students to strengthen friendships over a two week period is a major factor responsible for that year groups' success as fifth years. For in those weeks away the incidents and memories created bond the year together. Thus the success of Wittneoom is important, and because Wittneoom 1987 was so successful, the school should not forget the dedication of the Masters and Old Boys who were responsible for its smooth progress, and in particular the master-in-charge Mr Brian Heibner.

In fact the work of all Masters and Administration staff at Hale should be acknowledged as significant to the success of all our efforts. Whether as educators, organizers, sports coaches, Housemasters or workers who maintain the smooth operation of the school, their ability and dedication stands as an example to the young men who gain an education at Hale School. Last year's TEE results by Hale students reflect the standard of excellence in education offered within Hale. Notably of the 1986 class, Joel Tan and Kent Morrison achieved General Exhibitions in their TEE results.

As 1987 signifies the end of secondary education for the year twelves, it also signifies the final year of service for one of the figure heads of the school. Reverend Davis retires after 26 years of faithful service to the school. His work in both the Junior and Senior school as an administrator, educator and Chaplain will be long remembered. We wish him a safe and happy retirement.

In conclusion, it is appropriate that we recognise all those who have sought through this year and in years past to give their all for Hale. On behalf of all students I would thank Dr Tregonning and Mr Macmillan who co-ordinate the school so productively, and all staff for their untiring efforts in 1987.

To the Prefects and Fifth years, I would wish every success in all they attempt, and to those returning in 1988, to enjoy and participate in what promises to be another exciting year at Hale School. Thank you.

M. J. Morison School Captain 1987.

Headmaster's 21st Annual Address

We meet tonight for this annual prize giving and Report in the War Memorial Hall, given to this venerable school, now nearly 130 years old, by its Old Boys to commemorate those who volunteered to serve abroad, but who did not come back from Australia's wars. One of those who did not return was W/O Ken Sinclair, a RAAF navigator shot down over Germany in May 1944. "Spud" was a school friend of mine (and of Mr Davy and Mr Rosenthal sitting here with me) and — I hope, Sir, you do not mind when I say — it is his sister, Lady Stephen, also a friend of those days, who is really our guest of honour tonight: hidden though she is from most of you. I was one those who did come back, after four years away, also in the RAAF in England, to find to my horror that she had moved to Victoria. There was some rumours of a rather scrawny law student who had loomed menacingly out of the Melbourne mist. Alas! But by that time — January 1946 — I had met another Year 11 sixteen year old St Hilda girl, fallen in love (again) and have lived happily ever after. As I am sure you have too, Sir Ninian. So all's well that ends well and by coincidence, both of us with five daughters St Hilda's has a lot to answer for. Lady Stephen's brother was but one of scores of young men from this School who gave their lives for their country. She and I were both good friends of Kim Roberts, a boarder from Bunbury (I think he beat me to it and asked her first to the prefects' dance. He was killed over France on D Day; just a week after Sinclair). And we could stand outside the Hall to look at the Roll of Honour and sadly reminisce over many others. Brave, simple, aware of right and wrong, and prepared to do something about it, believe me they were no different from your sons, the care of whom has given meaning to my life and whose qualities and character refresh me anew each year in the conviction that we can be as proud of our young now as we were then, forty odd years ago. Sir Ninian will meet soon many great boys, and I am sure will share with me that pride, for as our Governor-General he must have — right across this wonderful nation — met so many others. We would like to think there is something special about Hale boys - just as I am sure there is something special about St Hilda's girls — but our young, if well led and held together by a loving discipline, be they Victorian or West Australian, give all the hope in the world that our future will be in good hands. Certainly it is on occasions such as this, (when I sense deep down that I know them for what they are, the people of my hand and the sheep of may pasture), that I value how deep is my commitment to them. But may I make a few general comments about discipline as it relates specifically (but not exclusively) to schools? It is a much used, and much mis-used concept, a word even of abuse by the media and it may help a few parents if they looked at it through my eyes, and assessed its relevance to them and their sons. The essence of discipline is love. There has to be a spiritual or religious essence in discipline if it is to be effective. Generals at war, headmasters, political parties, governments, even business men must establish a moral element in their concern for those they lead. Without this an essential quality is missing. This, I fear, on the educational scene, where one must teach what is right and what is wrong, epitomizes what is lacking in many secular government schools. Secondly, it is basic for any institution (or individual for that matter) if it wishes to be effective, to have goals. Discipline without purpose is meaningless. A school needs to have a goal in all its enterprises. These need to be clearly enunciated, regularly, and known to all. It is easier to establish a clear goal in many aspects of a school — sporting activities for example - less easy elsewhere; and yet it is esential for good discipline to formulate them, review them, enunciate them and have all involved working to reach them. It is not a tragedy in life if you do not reach your goals. Having no goals to reach is the disaster. A good school then must have a clear goal. Thirdly, if all is well in the classroom, all is well. The teacher in his lessons must know the goal he is putting before his students, a goal that challenges each one to the utmost, he must be on top of his subject, quick to praise yet vigorous in his handling of slackness, competent in his profession as a teacher. If he does not like his job, or is not effective, no matter how good a football coach he is then discipline suffers and the school is weakened. The classroom is paramount. His handling of his duties again has a basic element: and although here I am talking of a school, again it has a relevance far wider: to a home as much as to a national leader. It is a guiding principle of acceptance. No master can establish a good relationship with his students unless he accepts them as individuals entrusted to him. This has nothing to do with slackness, with seeking popularity by letting them do what they like. It means that a master has to accept into his care each and every boy, so that a meaningful educative relationship can be established. Every time this is rejected, by either boy or master, failure results and discipline vanishes. This meaningful relationship is the hardest challenge possible. That it is achieved so often among so many is indicative of good disciplie. Good interpersonal relationships at a school is the key. Finally, we come to the boy himself. He senses a moral atmosphere of care in a school with clear goals, he is in a classroom where he is well taught and challenged to work hard, and is involved in any number of extra-mural activities with his teachers where again good discipline prevails. For the most valuable source of good discipline is the educational programme itself. The discipline of a school is the discipline of the activities that go on in it. This has to produce a positive result, for if a boy does not accept the school and its activities then although punitive measures might produce temporary compliance. as that of a conqueror over a slave, they will have little or no permanent educative effect. .PA But given these basic points — of a moral basis, clear goals, good teaching and all that that involves, every activity well run by keen staff from Monday's Year 9 Maths class to the Friday afternoon's rowing session — put them inside a frame work so familiar and ordered and reliable that no boy is flustered or disturbed, but rather is protected as if his mother's arms were still around him, then good discipline results. For at the end, you can judge in one simple way, by the freedom of the student expressed unmistakeably in his willing acceptance of it all, whether there is good discipline or not. Unless this condition of freedom exists little effective learning takes place. True discipline does not exist without freedom: and, I would add, without love. I hope this lecture on discipline has not bored you. I just thought it might interest you to explore with me for once the inferences of this rather vague and maligned concept. Occasionally new parents say "What are your views on discipline?" and this is a code for wanting to know if corporal punishment still is used. This, and the size of classes, are often held to be the keys to a good school. There is more to it than that and I thought I would use you, as a captive audience, to share my views. I would welcome yours in return: but not now. We have been forced this year to grapple with doctrinaire educational changes rapidly introduced by the State government, many of which have little value, some we fear are detrimental to quality work, whose implications in schools and on students have been little thought through. Such is the calibre of our staff that we have been able to minimise some of the adverse effects and ignore others; but overall the new TEE system does not appeal to us and we do not see it as change that will improve the quality of education in this State. It will keep more students at schools for longer but the benefits they will gain from that are at present dubious. One step being taken by the State Minister for Education, Mr Pierce, has exciting possibilities in his move to partly privatise the State system, with each school establishing a Board of Governors, and creating individual and competitive differences. The essence of good education is the individual school, the branches of a vast bureaucracy are nowwhere near as effective, and if Mr Pierce can produce individual schools of competitive quality, the Independent Schools really will have a serious and worthwhile challenge on their hands at last. I for one would welcome that challenge. Hale at least would respond positively as I am sure would others, and given a fair basis for that competition all boys and girls in W.A. would benefit. We neglect our young at our peril. In too many cases they are being sold short by the pap called education today, and if the State can turn the system "Towards Better Schools" (as his policy document is entitled) then I applaud his initiative and enterprise, qualities surely of a good liberal educationalist. .PA There is need to turn to domestic affairs. Three of our sixty odd staff leave today, all retiring from the educational scene. Mr J. Eyres, head of department of biology, known to many as the leader over many years of our tree-planting program at Rottnest, where 10,000 trees, much dune stabilisation and other work has been done by senior students, is leaving to pursue business interests. Mr A. Panarese head of our department of accounting, who led us into our now rapidly expanding computer program, author of several text books, and our senior tennis master, also moves into the busines world. Finally, after 28 years service as our School chaplain, the Reverend Russell Davis, retires. He has been head of the Junior School for the last seven years, a great rugby coach — indeed he initiated the game here, and thanks to him Hale has won the Inter-School cup more times than the other six schools put together — and a fine teacher. Hundreds of Old Boys have been married in our chapel by him, he has been unflagging in his energy and service to the School and throughout

he has carried with him that serenity and calm that comes to all those who walk with God and the 1662 prayer book; and while I can not claim that close relationship, I have valued our association enormously. I have been a very lucky headmaster, and Hale a fortunate school to have had The Reverend Davis as its first and so far the only chaplain, 1959 — 1987.

Dr K.G. Tregonning.

Hale School Crest

There are, no doubt, many boys at Hale School who, although they proudly wear the Crest, Coat of Arms, Motto and Colours of the School are unaware of their origins, history and meaning.

This explanation is taken from an undated letter written by a former teacher at Hale School West Perth — Miss Doris Green.

Prior to 1919 no crest, coat of arms, or motto had been adopted and there were no records of any written or verbal adaptations by earlier governing bodies of the School.

At first the moto "Aspice, Respice, Prospice" ("Look both back and forward") was used and later "Floreat Schola Perthensis" (" Let Perth School Flourish") appeared to be used on printed materials and the Old Boys's Blazer. However, neither of these was accepted nor approved.

It was then decided to use, with adaptations, the crest of Bishop Hale, the School's founder — subject to permission being granted by the then head of the family — Mr Harold Hale of New Norfolk, Tasmania. This permission was granted and on March 11th, 1919 the existing Crest, Coat of Arms, Motto and Colours were accepted and approved by the Governing body. It was as follows:

CREST:

To consist of the head of a black swan resting on a bar of two blues — the swan's head showing the school's connection with the State of W.A.

COAT OF ARMS:

Dark blue shield with a crossband of royal blue. In the upper half three cinque foils in gold or blue. The three florets on the escutcheon signify the chivalry of the old knighthood — the manly life, the pure mind, the belief in God. In the lower half, the figures 1858 — from whence the school's history can be traced.

MOTTO:

Duty — representing doing what is right and striving always to attain the highest in human endeavour.

COLOURS:

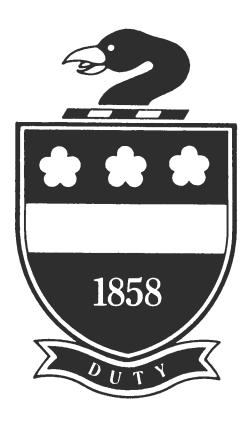

Colours appear always to have been two blues, but until the late seventies, no exact shades were used! One blue was always navy, the other any shade of blue that was lighter.

The Cambridge light blue was adopted by the Rev. R. Davies, the head master (a Cambridge graduate) when the Board of Governors first took over the school under the High School Act 1876.

In the Eastern States it had been found necessary to have three colours for competitive events between secondary schools; and anticipating such a need in this State, it was decided to adopt gold as the third colour, this to be used for the present in the Coat of Arms only. Its use in competitions to depend upon the needs of the future. Meantime the combination was to be earmarked as that of the School.

Thanks must go to Mrs J. Heinrichs for this interesting and important article.

Chapel Notes

This year saw a partial revival of Day House Chapel.

Buntine House, under the guidance of Mr Hopkins, replaced one house meeting each term with a Chapel service to which parents were invited. Each term the services improved as boys and parents felt more at home. Parents took an active part, reading the lessons and in the final service a group from the School band played the hymns.

It is hoped other day houses may follow this lead.

The usual pattern of Junior School Chapel on Mondays and boarders' Chapel on Sundays continued.

The School is indebted to the Reverend Erskine Sweetman for his assistance at Holy Communion and to Dr Colin Day for his enthusiastic playing of the organ both in the Chapel and on Wednesday in the Hall.

The Chapel was the venue for funeral services for the late Kim Eather, an old boy tragically killed in an aircraft accident in New Guinea, and for John Negus, a King's Cup rower and enthusiastic member of the Old Boys' Association. Our visiting preachers for Wednesday's assemblies were:-

The Reverend Anthony Dixon (Anglicare)

Dr Donald Noone (Director, Anglican Department of Education)

The Reverend Terry Ranson (The Mission to Seamen)

The Reverend Les Goode (Hospital Chaplain) Mr Chris Forbes (St Bartholomew's House)

Bishop Kyme (Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Perth)

The Reverend Michael Dean (Chaplain to the Mental Health Dept)

The Reverend Peter Ferguson (Chaplain to Curtin University)

Archdeacon Stanley Threlfall (The Board of Governors)

The Reverend Geoff Berger (The Australian Board of Missions)

Brother Bruce Paul (The Franciscans)

The Reverend Ken Frewer (Church Missionary Society)

From Chapel funds, $100 was sent to each of the following:-

Anglicare, The Australian Board of Missions, The Church Missionary Society, The Society of St Francis, St Bartholomew's and The Mission to Seamen.

Reverend Russel E. Davis Hale 1960—1987

In 1958, one hundred years after Bishop Hale founded his Collegiate School, the Board of Governors of Hale School approached the Archbishop of Perth with a view to having their School accepted as a Church school in return for some financial help in the proposed move from Havelock Street to Wembley Downs.

The Synod endorsed the move in 1959 and a bill was passed by Parliament amending the constitution of the School. For the first time since Bishop Hale closed down the Collegiate School in 1872, Hale now had the Archbishop as its Visitor and half the Board were Church nominees. The next step was the appointment of the School's first chaplain and the headmaster, Mr Vernon Murphy, chose Russell Earls Davis, the precentor and minor canon of St George's Cathedral.

Russell Davis is therefore the only chaplain Hale has ever had since there was no chaplain in Bishop Hale's day and the High School was by its constitution of 1878 a secular school.

Rev. Davis is the last survivor of the Havelock Street days. The Havelock Street School was sold to the State Government and in 1961 Hale moved into its new buildings in Wembley Downs under a new Headmaster, Mr J. R. Prince. There was an unsettled period during which drastic changes took place in the staffing of the School but the School's chaplain stayed on.

Rev. Davis introduced the teaching of Divinity throughout the school and, in the year at West Perth, conducted Sunday Chapel for both Hale and St Mary's School for Girls in the old St Mary's Church which has since been demolished.

At Wembley Downs, Chapel was first held in the Dining Hall then, when it was completed, in the Assembly Hall. In 1969 the beautiful Chapel of St Mark was consecrated. During his chaplaincy Rev. Davis prepared about 700 boys for confirmation, conducted over 350 baptisms and about 600 weddings and preached well over a thousand sermons to the boys of Hale.

Also in 1969 he was appointed as the first housemaster of Brine House — the newly constructed Junior Boarding House. He ran the House for eight years.

In 1981 he was made Master-in-Charge of the Junior School, which office he administered, while continuing to be chaplain, until his retirement. During this period the Junior School was expanded and new buildings and improvements to the facilities and grounds greatly enhanced the appearance and efficiency of the School. The production of the Junior Cygnet was initiated and the annual School Concert and regular newsletters to parents became established traditions.

One of the great loves of his life was Rugby Union. He started a team at Havelock Street and remained Master-in-Charge of Rugby for the whole of the 28 years of his service. He was for six years the President of the W.A.Rugby and the founding President of the W.A.Schools Rugby Union. He was selected as one of the two Australians to be sent to Rugby School in England in 1975 for celebrations to mark the 150th anniversary of the day William Webb Ellis ran with the ball at Rugby School and began the game. Rev. Davis coached Hale's First XV to eight premierships (no other School has won more) and has taken pleasure in seeing the game develop into a major P.S.A. sport. He took his teams on tours to Tasmania, Sydney, Canberra, Brisbane, Kalgoorlie, Singapore, Malaysia and Thailand.

He also coached cricket for a few years before switching to swimming coaching when Hale's pool was built. He helped Mr Poake and then Mr Hoad train Hale in its great succession of swimming victories over a period of 18 years.

In the athletics season Rev. Davis coached the squad shot-putters for many seasons.

Training in music enabled Rev. Davis to run the Chapel choir for many years and to assist in the development of music in the Junior School. He regularly conducted hymn practice for the senior school and wrote nativity plays and music for Junior School productions.

The three sons of Rev. Davis attended Hale and one, Timothy, is remembered as an outstanding sportsman and scholar and Hale's only Rhodes Scholar in recent years — the only Western Australian to win a Rugby Blue at Oxford as well as a Blue for swimming and a half Blue for water polo.

The Reverend Russell Davis has completed twenty eight years of dedicated involvement in the life of Hale. He will be remembered with affection by all members of the Hale School family who join together in wishing him health and happiness in his well earned retirement. Thank you Russell for a job well done.

T.D.H.

A. J. Eyres 1978-1987

During his ten years at Hale School Mr John Eyres has contributed much to the many spheres of school life. The early years saw an active involvement with the biology programme at Wittenoom and Millstream. Biology at Hale has been enriched by his firm committment to field activity and the many trips to Penguin Island have always proved popular over the years. His sense of humour had many a recalcitrant wondering, especially when given a choice of cane, "Rangoon or Bougainvillia"?

As Head of the Biology Department, he was instrumental in the establishment of the Biology Resource Centre which has grown under his guidance. In 1983 Dr. Tregonning approached Mr Eyres about the possibility of establishing a Rottnest Re-Afforestation programme. This programme is now 5 years old and is a credit to Mr Eyres as it has proved to be a great educational tool. The programme has infused an environmental consciousness into many young men leaving Hale. Also, as a bonus, the skills gained from this experience have opened other avenues of development as several students have now become involved in re-afforestation schemes in country areas.

Three years ago Jo saw the birth of another project at Herdsman Lake. This has resulted in the planting of approximately 1200 trees as part of Hale's contribution to a community scheme to return the lake to its natural state.

All at Hale will miss the committed and dedicated "Mr Greenfingers". Rumours have been running that he wants to visit the dark shores of Africa, others say that he has found green pastures in the South West. Which-ever way he turns we wish him well.

St. J. Kenny.

Alex Panarese

Alex came to Hale in 1981 from Churhlands College of Advanced Education where he had been a lecturer in Accounting for seven years. He quickly became involved in Hale School life where in his first year he coached the year 10 tennis and 2nd XVIII football teams as well as fitting in time for two weeks at Wittenooom.

This keeness for hard work and his efficiency were to become Alex's trademarks at Hale. His involvement in sports revolved around his two great loves, tennis and football. From the tennis point of view, under his watchful eye, the 1st VIII team won the "Corr Cup" twice and the "Slazenger Cup" three times (a hat trick). Also being a great "Sharks" man, we saw the prowess that is evident in so many East Fremantle men—the skills of Aussie rules football. In this area he contributed greatly to the 2nd XVIII teams over the years and also managed the football teams for the Interstate Carnival on four occasions.

His efforts were, however, not only evident on the sports field. In 1983 he was responsible for the setting up of the computer system at Hale and also became the first Head of the Commerce Department. The following year saw him become further involved in computing where he, together with Mr Peter Dyer, ran Computing Awareness classes for students, teachers and parents and also wrote a book on computer awareness.

It is most probably this taste of literary licence that embarked Alex onto further writing projects involved in accounting where he has had several books published. Unfortunately this extra pressure of writing and being a Head of Department meant that in 1985, after two terms as Buntine Housemaster, Alex had to relinquish this position after making a great impact on Buntine House in a short space of time.

Centainly he will be missed greatly around Hale School, but nowhere as much as he will be missed in Accounting classes. His depth of knowledge and efficiency gave a great impetus to this subject and produced well above state average results in the T.E.E. year after year. We wish him the best for his future. Congratulations on a job well done, Alex!

Valedictory Speech

1983 was the start of something spectacular, for this was when most of us first came to Hale School. In the next five years we would prove our worth as Haleians. However, for some, just getting through the rigours of first year was an extremely tough task. Boarding proved to be a rude shock to most of us in first year, thrust into a new environment where we even had to make our own beds and do homework seemed extremely bad. However most got over the initial shock of boarding life but not without the usual quota of homesickness, which usually culminated in a reverse the charges phone call home with the bloke on this end saying "Mum I don't like this place, I want to go home!"

The day boys also would have had their problems in first year. They would have had to put up with the unsociable and animalistic first year boarders that we were, and I imagine that catching a bus to school and back would be a major problem for some of them even at this stage. With curiosity and expectations that could only be typical of first years we all wondered what sport teams we would be in and what would happen to us by the time we reached the far distant future of being in fifth year. Many expectations were of course shattered, the day boys having the benefit of coaching clinics and they usually outshone the boarders in the "finesse" sports such as Cricket, Tennis and Hockey. However, especially in later years, the boarders showed their worth in the sports requiring raw guts and courage such as Rugby, Cross-Country, Rowing and Football.

The domination of some sports by boarders and some by day boys perhaps led to the initial distinction between the "Dumb Boarders" and the "Wimpy Day-Go's". The cry of "Daygo Bash" was heard very frequently in first year as we were egged on by fourth year boarders to perform our duties as sadists. Day boys such as whom some will remember, never did seem to mix well with the boarders until Mr Hoar decided to intervene and warned us to transfer our attention elsewhere. Happily, the segregation between boarders and day boys diminished as the years went by and we realised that most of the day boys were actually good blokes.

With Year 8 and 9 over and Year 10 about to begin, several new faces appeared in our Year, among these were the sports superstars Ashley Johns and Mark Leuba. As usual after the trials and tribulations of the Junior there were the usual disappearances such as Todd Harris and Quentin Dennis both of Faulkner House.

Many staff have also come and gone in our time at Hale. Staff leavers were Mr. Cornish, Mr. Benson, Mr. Towers, Mr. Hockenhull, Mr. Dean, Mr. Cardell-Oliver and of course Mr. Hoar. Staff replacements included Mr. Lock, Mr. Welsh, Mr. Pengelley, Mr. Dook, Mr. Lange, Mr. Bean, Mr. Uphill, Mr. Goater, Mr. Tompson, Mr. Brown and Mr. Green.

The end of 1987 will see Hale lose yet another 3 staff members. Reverend Davis is leaving Hale after 28 years of faithful service to the school. Also Mr. Panarese and Mr. Eyres are moving on. I'm sure you will all join with me in wishing them good luck in the future.

Year 11 arrived, and so too did the best two weeks of our life at Hale School in the form of Wittenoom. At Wittenoom many legendary feats were performed such as Simon Bladen's dubious claim that he jumped off Fortesque 41 times. Wittenoom proved to be all it was made out to be, what with day boys and boarders coming to know each other much better and students finally becoming aware that most masters actually do have a human face which is rarely seen at school. Wittenoom '86 could only be described as a success, even though it was marred by the tragedy the befell Group 11 and that made us all the poorer because it robbed us of the irrepressible and likeable Mark Denison. Thanks should go to all the masters that contributed to Wittenoom '86.

Year 12 began in earnest with the usual appointments of school prefects, house prefects and the like. Of course some were disappointed as four years of good behaviour and devotion to the school went unrewarded. In sport, this year was quite successful as many high placings were achieved. Sport has been an integral part of our life at Hale school. For five years most of us have competed for places in teams and once in these teams the comradeship established between the team members enables us to come to know each other better.

Another integral, and probably the most important, aspect of our years at Hale school has been academic achievement. Now our most important academic challange lies ahead in the form of our final T.E.E. exams. Through this year we have all been told to keep working and that it will pay off in the end. For many this continual work throughout the year will pay off in the form of a good T.E.E. score that will enable them to fulfil their goals whatever they may be.

Our years at Hale school won't be forgotten and as Gary Davis's hair continues to thin and the memories of Mr. Johnson telling you to "gather round boys!" and of Mr. Welsh telling you that the chemistry exam is a "breeze" when it's really a nightmare, the memories can only become sweeter with us continuing to remember the good times and hilarity of the year, such as Troy MacMillan's method of completing the cross-country course, and who could possibly forget Ashley Hassell's positively riveting chess reports and James Willoughby's comical soccer reports?

And so I wish all the members of my year well in whatever they may attempt in the future. May the masters in the future receive students as wise and angelic as we have been in our years at Hale school.

Tomorrow when we leave this place, that great joy we feel at leaving will surely contain some element of sadness as we realise what a great institution Hale is and that our schooling here has finally come to an end.

BUNTINE HOUSE HOUSEMASTER: Mr J. G. Hopkins

HOUSE CAPTAIN: C. C. Porter

HOUSE VICE CAPTAIN: P. C. B. Davey HOUSE PREFECTS: N. A. McKenna, M. J. Mallabone, P. A. Wallace, M. B. Williams. SCHOOL PREFECTS: P. C. B. Davey, M. J.

Mallabone, C. C. Porter, M. B. Williams.

as Buntine House Master and many changes to House procedures. House Prefects were now elected by the boys of the House. They were Mark Mallabone, Nick McKenna, Paul Davey, Paul Wallace and Christian Porter as House Captain and a sixth Prefect, Matthew Williams, was later included. Buntine also contained four School Prefects which showed the remarkable talent behind the House in our Year 12.

Summer Sport saw many mixed results, some of which were very surprising. Our cricketers led by the talented Mark Mallabone were able to beat all odds in obtaining the E. F. Parker Cup. Unfortunately our Tennis team, under the control of Andreas Groth did not do so well finishing 6th as the team was made up mainly of young talent showing good signs for the years ahead. Once again our rowers were in the hands of Justin Reading and Mark Sutton who once again stroked our House to a respectable position but unfortunately not high enough to retain the cup won last year in grand style.

Buntine was also out to defend the Sholl Cup won last year by a narrow margin of 6 points. Our basketballers, both senior and junior, performed well after the loss of star players like Russell Parker and Bill Hoedemaker. Senior Volleyball had its ups and downs but finished in a commendable position. Junior Volleyball was unfortunately lacking in talent and enthusiasm, but after a few words of encouragement from Mr Hopkins they finally got their act together. Teeball also started off very slowly but after some hard work and dedication brought on by Adrian Anastas they became a very enthusiastic and successful team. Our baseballers too were lacking in real skill but made up for it in dedication to finish in a respectable position. Overall Buntine finsihed 6th in the Sholl Cup which does not really justify the hard work put in by the whole House.

Our biggest disappointment came in the Swimming. After the loss of last year's Year 12s, we knew we would have to work hard to regain our third place. Mr Hopkins drew up a lunch-time training scheme which was well attended and worked at by all boys but unfortunately this was not enough and we finished a disappointing seventh.

Buntine winter sport also had its ups and downs. Both senior and junior Hockey teams went through the entire season undefeated which is a remarkable feat. The senior Hockey, containing highly skilled players like Justin Reading, Paul Davey, Mark Mallabone andk Nick McKenna, won the grand final convincingly against Haynes to secure the Hockey Cup. Unfortunately the Football finished at the other end of the scale, both senior and junior Football came 8th but performed well considering there were only two 1st XVIII players, both in Year 11. The House Rugby carnival was also disappointing for Buntine this year. Tom Meagher took on a small number of Footballers and conducted some lunch-time training but it was not quite enough and we were knocked out in the first round by Faulkner.

Buntine nearly caused the upset of the year when they ran a very close second to Loton in the House Cross Country. Earlier in the year Mr. MacMillan drew up a guideline to assist in training for the event which we desperately wanted to win. This plan was obviously followed by some students. Andreas Groth ran a remarkable race to finish second to Paul Davey in the open division and this set up a win for Buntine in this division. All except one age group performed well and unfortunately this cost us the Cup.

Once again Buntine fell away in the Athletics. Everyone put in a grand effort but the lack of depth in the House was our weakness. Outstanding efforts were shown by Paul Davey in all his events, especially the open 800m and Alister Lilleyman in the under 17 division.

Off the sporting field Buntine performed well in Chess, Debating and in the classroom. For the second year running Buntine's debaters were victorious, led by the highly talented Christian Porter and associates Mark Mallabone and Nick McKenna. They defeated Haynes in the final to finish the year on a high note.

1987 has been a year of mixed fortunes for Buntine but all in all we have performed very well. Thanks must go to all the year twelves for a great year. They will be missed.

A final thanks must go to our dynamic Housemaster Mr J.G. Hopkins for his incredible dedication over the last year and hopefully this will be rewarded in 1988.

M. Morison (School Capt.)

The appointment of Mitchell Morison to School Captain gave Faulkner an early boost amongst its peers at the beginning of the year and our academic and sporting achievements made our presence further known.

The Inter-House Swimming Carnival saw great improvements and the weeks of early morning training showed with our advancement of another position from last year to fourth. Likewise the Cricket was also able to move a position forward to take third place at the end of the competition.

House Rowing saw valiant efforts all season but with the position of fifth being the final result. The Baseball team had a mediocre season although there were some good performances. Their final position was seventh. The Teeball team on the contrary had an excellent season and took out first position. The senior basketballers managed a position of second while the less experienced junior team could only gain last position.

The junior volleyballers put in a mammoth effort and showed their superiority by finishing first. Sadly the seniors finished at the other end of the scale. The senior Football had an extremely close season but were finally suppressed and had to settle for sixth position. The Junior footballers however put themselves well into the top position but were beaten in the grand final and had to settle for second place.

The Senior Hockey played consistently over the winter season and were reasonably placed at fifth position. The Junior Hockey had a great season and held the respectable position of third. The Cross Country is typically the event that Faulkner does well in as a House and 1987 was no exception with a well deserved position of third place.

Fourth term saw the Inter-House Athletics competition and Faulkner were placed in fourth position, one lower than last year, although times and distances were bettered in all areas. The high point of the day was the open relay which Faulkner won last year and our team this year continued the winning streak and retained the J. C. Taylor Trophy.

The Debating team contained the combined "talents" of Paul Brown, Shayn Massey and Campbell Wood and they did well to achieve the hard earned position of third.

Faulkner this year won the McLarty Cup for Inter-House shooting. The steady hands of Kim Slee (highest score in competition). Alastair Cowan, Hamish Cameron and Adam Benson were responsible for this achievement, although some more than others.

Once again another year has been completed and the credit of a year's organization and encouragement should go to Mr Kelley, the assistant housemasters and the year twelves.

Haynes

HOUSEMASTER: Mr G. Lange HOUSE CAPTAIN: P. Maidment VICE CAPTAIN: B. Slocombe SCHOOL PREFECTS: P. Maidment, B. Slocombe, J. Legge, M. Leuba. HOUSE PREFECTS: J. Chaplin, S. Adonis.

1987 proved to be another very successful year for Haynes House in both cultural and sporting fields. Hanyes House was always competitive thanks to the House Prefects and our Housemaster Mr Lange who had a firm but always positive approach towards the House.

Haynes regained the G.N. Altorfer Cup for the champion House in the Interhouse Swimming Carnival with School Swimming Captain James Legge leading by example. Our u/17's won every race and it was a great overall team effort.

Once again Haynes was successful in the Sholl Cup fOr team games finishing first ahead of Loton and Riley. Rob Innocent's senior Basketball team won their competition as did Peter Maidment's Baseball "Furies" and the Teeballers. James Legge had mixed success with the Volleyball team.

A talented Cricket team led by Simon Adonis was a little disappointing, considering that the team included six 1st XI players. They eventually finished third. Captain of Tennis, Mark Leuba, led his young Tennis team into 2nd place behind Riley in the Haswell Cup. Steven Ipp's rowers managed 7th place in a trying year.

The School Play was the feature of the cultural events during the middle of the year, with Peter Maidment again being outstanding. The House Chess was more competitive this year with our team coming a well deserved 3rd. The Haynes House Debating team had an excellent year. Unfortunately Peter Maidment, Damian Baker and Basil Zempilas lost in a split decision in the final to very strong Buntine team.

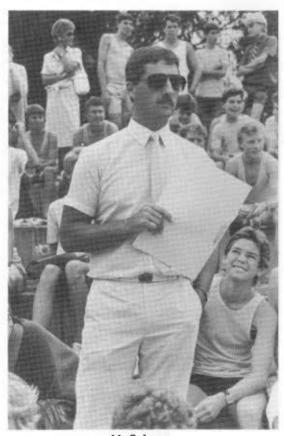

Haynes House was again dominant in the the winter sports. Peter Maidment and his very talented young Hockey team ended second to Buntine after losing the final. The Junior Hockey side also finished 2nd to a strong Buntine team. The Senior football team had much potential, but with our 1st XVIII players often unable to play and regular injuries occurring, Haynes finished a creditable 4th. The Junior Football tried hard all year also finishing in 4th place. The depth of talent assures success for Haynes in both Football and Hockey in the future.

The House Cross Country was run at the completion of the winter sport season with Haynes working hard to finish in 4th position, which was an improvement from last year's effort.

The final competition of the year was the House Athletics which promised to be closely fought. School Athletic's Captain Brett Slocombe led the House team by example and at the end of the day Haynes had regained the J. F. Hantke Cup with a tremendous all round effort.

Haynes House demonstrated their overall dominance by winning the Cock House Cup. The great success of the House is attributed to Mr Lange, House Captain Peter Maidment and his House Prefects, and to the members of the House who showed such drive and enthusiasm.

Loton

HOUSEMASTER: Mr M. Jordan ASSISTANT HOUSEMASTERS: Mr S. Addis, Mr W. Witham, Mr M. Addis. HOUSE CAPTAINS: N. Cooke, P. Whitfield. HOUSE PREFECTS: D. Chitty, D. Szczecinski, S. Fisher, A. Johns, M. Negus. SCHOOL PREFECTS: P. Whitfield, N. Cooke.

1987, under the guidance of Mr Jordan in his second year of power, was one of mixed fortunes for Loton House. It started with the announcement of the shared house captaincy between Nick Cooke and Pete Whitfield, as well as the induction of the other four House prefects.

The House Swimming Carnival saw quite a lot of early morning practice as Loton were hoping to lift from the position of last which we gained last year. Unfortunately even with the skills of Brad Hitchcock we were left at the bottom again. although everyone gave their all, and competed with true boarders' spirit. The House Cricket competition was fiercely contested again, and saw Loton gain 6th position. The House Tennis competition for the Haswell Cup saw Loton with a bit of bad luck, and lack of depth drop to fourth position. The better of the summer results were the Rowing Cup and the Sholl Cup. The Loton four blitzed the rest of the field to come an easy first, while our lack of numbers in the team games did not hinder the result of a hard fought for second position.

The first two terms also had Loton going on the annual Red Cross door-knock one Sunday. Loton House alone raised nearly $2000. The School Play, an annual event now, had a representation of seven people involved in either cast or crew. As well as this there was an enjoyable trip to Rottnest for the day. To top it off there were eleven people from Loton who in graduated the scuba course to become licensed divers.

Third and fourth teams for Loton were very successful in a number of events. The annual dreaded Cross Country was trained for on many mornings and Loton again retained the cup which was a fabulous reward for most. Winter sports had Loton seniors nearly clinch victory in the Football, a great team effort. In all Loton came second in the Football cup and the Hockey performed well to gain 3rd position. In the House Rugby, which was a rough and tumble competition, Loton again coming second to Stirling. House Athletics saw our small numbers let us down again and we managed 7th position.

House Debating saw Loton advance further than they had ever and 6th position was good. As well as this there was the Chess team who did well to gain victory over Wilson but unfortunately lost to Haynes. Finally there was the House golfing day that was very humorous and saw Paul House and Dave Simon take top positions.

In all it has been a good year for Loton and all looks well for the future with a promising fourth year bunch now taking over.

Parry

HOUSEMASTER: Mr I. Biddle HOUSE CAPTAIN: T. Flavel SCHOOL PREFECTS: T. Flavel HOUSE PREFECTS: D. Harris (Vice Captain), Q. Hessels, J. Hinton, J. Perryman.

1987 saw Parry House rise to prominence in both sporting and cultural activities. Mr Biddle and his year twelves laid the foundations of a strong unit and the remaining House members built on this through out the year.

Sporting achievements were notable facets of the House with David Harris captaining the 1st XI Cricket with J.Williams and K. Tringas also participating at this level. Harris, Tringas, Ham and Kettlewell performed well in the 1st XVIII Football as did Hessels, Park, Atzemis, Bowman, Johnson and A. House in the 1st XV Rugby. Many Parry members also contributed to the Swimming and especially the Athletics, which certainly helped Hale's rise to second from 7th only two years ago. With first term came the introduction of House Sport, Parry doing better in some areas than others. The Cricket, led by Harris, finished second in the battle for the Parker Cup. John Perryman captained the Tennis to a remarkably high third in the Haswell Cup competition. In the George Rogers' Cup, for Rowing, Parry finished a creditable third. Continued improvement saw Parry grab third in the G.N. Altorfer Cup for Interhouse Swimming. Baseball gained five positions on last year's effort to achieve third with J. Bowman campaigning well. However Melvin's Volleyball team did not fare as well as A. Heinrichs' basketballers.

The winter months were dominated by several cultural activities, including the School Play "Googooewon — The Place of Trees" in which many House members participated. Due to extensions to the Memorial Hall, House plays were unable to be held, an area in which Parry usually contributes at a high level. The Chess players remained undeterred at the loss of State Champion A. Field and for the second year in succession Parry, consisting of T. Field, A. Johnson, F. Tenji and N. Piggot won the competition. The Debating team consisting N. Flavel, G. Mussel, C. Davison and S. McDonagh, failed to reach such heights but the Davy Shield is not out of reach in the years to come.

Perhaps the most notable of performances during the Winter Sport season was that of the Junior Football who remained undefeated. Senior football did not "live up" to expectations with a resultant fifth — despite the efforts of Harris, Hessels and Williams (Yr 12). Senior Hockey, led by Atzemis, tried valiantly but failed to find the formula for success and finished 8th. The Jones Cup competition for Interhouse Rugby saw the highly favoured Parry combination knocked out in the early rounds. Cross Country was the next major sporting event in which Parry participated in all age groups. Runners were highly placed early, however the lack of fitness was apparent with Parry finishing in fifth place. Most notable was the performance of Hantke and Broom in the U/14 age group coming first and second respectively.

With the return of the last Wittenoom Group early in the month, the Interhouse Athletics Carnival was held just prior to the end of term three on a glorious September's day. The day proved indeed to be glorious with a mammoth improvement by the House, from seventh last year, to third, just a few points behind first and second. This performance can be credited to large turn-outs at House training with the assistance of Masters' Moir, Hunn, Kenny and particularly Mr Biddle. Parry were placed third in the Cock House Cup and at this stage it seems likely that this position will only be increased in the years to come.

A vote of thanks must be given to Mr Biddle and the year twelves for their administration of the House in '87, no doubt appreciated greatly by all Parry House members, who will continue to strive successfully in '88.

Riley

HOUSEMASTER: Mr T. V. Greenwell. HOUSE CAPTAIN: C. S. Norman. HOUSE PREFECTS: C. S. Norman, R. F. Morrison, J. P. Shaw, S. T. B. Bladen, P. W. Faulkner, B. W. Hewson.

1987 was another successful year for Riley House with outstanding participation and competition in all activities. Despite several teams lacking strength we struggled valiantly to attain good placings in most events. Our enthusiastic captain Chris Norman proved extremely competent in fulfulling his task of organisation and encouragement within the House.

The first major sporting event on the school calendar, the Interhouse Swimming competition, saw Riley put in an excellent performance. However, lacking swimmers in some areas we failed to get better than second position. Still it was effort for which both swimmers and supporters should be congratulated.

The cultural highlight of 1987 at Hale, the School Play, saw the participation of many Riley House members. On stage from Riley were, Aaron Woodall, Simon Bladen, Matt Farr, Mark Foster, David Darragh and his unfortunate brother. The play saw the debut (before a paying audience) of Matt Farr, who honed his talents on last year's House play, "Perfection City". Simon Bladen bowed out of the Hale School drama this year in fine style with an excellent impersonation of Lady Cecily Farrington.

The Tennis team of Peter Faulkner, Simon Bladen, Rob Morrison, Tim Kestell and Michael Spartalis played in fine style to once again win. Unfortunately hopes for the Cricket team were not fulfilled when Riley again finished last.

In the winter sports, Riley, fared not so well. Though we fought valiantly in senior Football (best players Rob Morrison, Luke Hawkins and Mark Foster) we finished a disappointing seventh. The junior Football team did only slightly better to obtain sixth place. The senior Hockey team played below the best of its abilities (best players Faulkner, Kelly and Ross), hindered on a couple of occasions by a very bad part-time goal-keeper (substituting for Ashley Cahif when he was unavailable). The Junior Hockey team knew little of positional play (though they improved during the season). They finished fifth with the senior team third.

The House Chess team, led by Mark Pudovskis with Harvey Salter and Stephen Darragh came fourth. We suffered a major setback in Debating (Simon Bladen, David Booth, Mark Foster and Stephen Darragh led by Matt Farr) losing a semifinal to finish third.

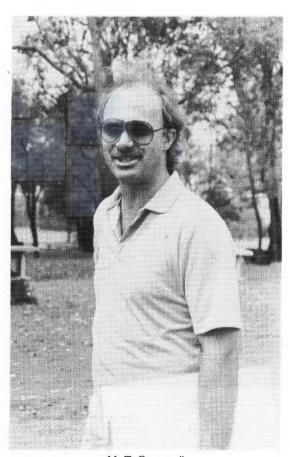

House Athletics saw some excellent performances to give us second. Scott Dethlefsen and Michael Kelly made outstanding contributors to Interschool Athletics.

Academic achievement was once again high. Simon Logie and Andrew Benness gained prizes in the Westpac maths competition (many distinctions were also gained). Andrew Benness and Graeme Ison also took out prizes in the University of N.S.W. science competition. On top of this, Mark Foster and David Booth won prizes in the Alliance Francaise exam.

We thank Mr Greenwell and the house prefects for their leadership during 1987. We look forward to '88 for an even better performance.

Stirling House

HOUSEMASTER: Mr D. Simpson HOUSE CAPTAIN: B. Treasure SCHOOL PREFECTS: B. Treasure HOUSE PREFECTS: B. Treasure, G. Davis, T. MacMillan, A. Fraser, A. Lynn, G. Shillington, P. Taylor.

1987 was seen as a year of improvement from a very consistent Stirling House, moving out of the mediocrity we had come accustomed to during the last couple of years. This rise was manufactured from the top with amazing drive and enthusiasm shown by undoubtedly one of the most talented group of year twelves collected in one house. In looking at the first teams in both Winter and Summer we pay homage to their abilities with Gary Davis being included in both the cricket and football teams. Troy MacMillan,

Retiring House master Mr D. Simpson

Julian Kelton, Heath Gillard and Tony Greenham all making appearances for the 1st XVIII. Alex Fraser and Ashley Lynn (capt) continued their performances in the 1st XV Rugby side from '86 and this year were joined by Anthony Hogg and Ben Treasure. In Soccer's first year as P.S.A. sport Stirling supplied three players in G. Cosford, S. Yovich and Andy Ho to this premier team. Grant Shillington was the sole recipient of a place in the First Eight rowing crew but indicitive of Stirling this year Hale had many contributers from us in the lower ranks. Both the Swimming and Athletics teams would have been lost without Stirling inclusions with perhaps the most significant being that of Heath Gillard (Open Champion) in Athletics.

Unfortunately the infamous house plays were not run this year but Stirling cultural flair was reflected by our involvement in Debating and Chess. It was unfortunate the Stirling debating team, led by the unorthodox pair of MacMillan and Davis met the eventual finalists Haynes in the first round. However the Chess remained a strong point for us with a creditable second.

Once a year Stirling House gives up a Sunday morning (this year particularly wet) to collect donations for the Salvation Army around the Wembley Downs area and a magnificent total at $2037 was raised.

On the sporting field Stirling excelled with a hard fought equal first in the cricketers' Parker Cup for the second consecutive year. Unfortunately the Sholl Cup, consisting of Basketball, Volleyball and Baseball, was not as successful. The Stirling Tennis team, consisting predominately of Nathan Howat, Jason Markinko, Ed Oldmeadow, and Steven Marris did well with the available talent to post a 4th in the Haswell cup. After this successful summer of Interhouse sport came Winter and even more sports. Surging ahead in the senior Football final to beat Loton by two goals and claim the Devenish Cup from seventh place last year was a great achievement. Stirling Hockey occupied the lower positions in the run for the Brine Cup but the final triumph was still to come with a convincing win in the Rugby competition once again due to the fantastic effects of our year twelves.

It is regretable that this is the last year Mr Simpson master's the House and after six years he will be sadly missed. However a more than adequate follower in Mr Colgate has been found who will hopefully lead Stirling to even greater heights in '88. We wish them both well.

The Human Pyramid — a finely judged performance

Rottnest Reafforestation '87

The return of the 1987 Rottnest Reafforestation group marks the fifth successful Rottnest journey. Another 14 year twelves have returned asking "why call it Rottnest Reafforestation"? Unfortunately only a fraction of the week was spent planting trees. The remaining time was required for other urgent maintenance and conservation matters that beleaguer the island each year.

The reafforestation project began in late 1982 when Dr. Tregonning approached Mr Eyres with the idea in mind. Before the end of the year arrangements had been made, research undertaken, and 3 species of native trees: Rottnest Island Pine, Ti-Tree and Coastal Moort were being cultivated in the area behind "N Block". The 23 1983 group members nurtured over 1000 trees to the stage where they were able to be planted and set out for Rottnest. This group along with Messrs Brown and Greenwell were occupied with the planting of a few acres of the above species. Spare time was used attempting to catch the aquatic delights of Rottnest Island. The rest of the time was spent repairing "blow out" areas. These are areas where wind erosion causes large sandy gullies which grow in size if left untended.

The 1984 team consisting of 17 boys spent the first few days restoring dunes by covering them with tree branches. This group planted around 3000 trees in 4 days, all fenced and fertilized.

The major problem with tree growth at Rottnest is the incredible appetite of the quokkas. An experiment done last year by the Rottnest Island Board workers highlighted this. In an area burnt after a New Year's Eve fire, a plot was fenced. Within the boundaries of the fenced area 42 species of plant germinated and flourished. Outside this enclosure only two species survived the voracious quokka. This animal can be blamed for much of the vegetation problems on Rottnest. It is capable of eating most plant species on the island.

After growing almost 3000 trees, the 1985 group was confronted with the discouragement of not being able to take one third of those. Only indigenous trees were to be planted from then on. However the remaining 2000 were planted on the island. Much of this group's time was also spent repairing dunes. The highlight of the trip apparently, was watching Mr Eyres partially demolish a fence at Anniversary Park.

The 1986 group grew, and planted, over two thousand trees. Their main job however was building fences and paths for the second most devastating creature on the island, homo sapiens. These creatures are capable of showing particularly sheep-like characteristics when walking and hence cause extensive erosion. When in a state of intoxication, they are also liable to ruin days of work by demolishing fences and pathways for use as firewood, and amusement.

On returning to the island in 1987, it was apparent that homo sapiens had struck again. Much of the fencing erected by last year's group had been torn down for use as firewood, a rather heart-breaking scene. However, the 16 members of the 1987 team to "duel with the Rottnest environment" were not to be daunted. This year, only 1000 trees were to be planted. The rest of the time was spent tending to other aspects of the Rottnest environment.

Our first duty was to remove over an acre of a huge succulent cactus "Agave". This was completed with the aid of a front-end loader. The vicious spines on the plant "Agave" were still a danger as Rent-a-Pom Alex Clarke found out. ("Scratch me, do I not bleed?")

Dune restoration was again a major concern. A large area on the southern shore of Thompson Bay was "brushed" using Acacia cuttings from Anniversary Park.

A new dune restoration technique was revealed by Charlie Hansen (Rottnest Island Board). This involved the pushing of cuttings of Lepidospermum, a dune reed, into the exposed sand. This technique was used in an area next to the Bathurst Point Lighthouse, Marjorie Bay, and in an area north of the golf course.

A large percentage of our time was spent fertilizing and maintaining previous groups' planting achievements. About 400 Rotto Ti-Trees were planted in an area opposite Porpoise Bay, west of the army barracks. Another 140 were planted north of the golf course in an attempt to prevent pedestrians causing erosion. This task was carried out with calls of "Classic song this!" by Christian Porter. Other trees wee planted in the cleared "Agave" area.

Signs were erected in areas of previous planting and an interesting tour of the Rottnest guns and tunnels was conducted. A "Final Night" dinner was held at the "Quokka Arms" where awards were presented to deserving recipients, and the past week of effort was reflected upon.

A leisurely trip around the island, complete with the occasionally (but rarely) humorous injections from Charlie Hansen, concluded the week in a fitting manner.

A number of things strike the observer when at Rottnest, Firstly the Rottnest Island Board seem to be undecided as to the fate of Rottnest. Much time and effort seems to be put into both destroying and preserving the island. The management of matters seems to be lacking in some areas. For example, much of the vandalism problem occurs because of the "need" for wood for the bonfires which are common on the Rottnest beaches. This wood is generally obtained by chopping down pine fences. The axes used to do this, are supplied by the R.I.B. To many people "this does not compute". Another problem is the lack of R.I.B. workers free to undertake maintenance work. Our two guides for the week were often called away to "other duties". This left us often to make our own decisions. As we saw on the second day of our week, some people do make mistakes when left untended. "The Men of Trees" conducted a planting expedition on the island several years ago. Most of these trees are now dead due to poor planning. We spent a day removing the now empty tree guards from the planted-out area.

Rottnest definitely has major ecological problems. It appears that the R.I.B. sees the tourist business as a more important issue. Perhaps they will be more eager to conduct reafforestation projects when Rottnest resembles the Sahara Desert.

With that ominous prediction, I would like to emphasize the importance of the Hale involvement over the past five year'. Behind it all has been Mr Eyres, with help from Mr Brown, Mr Cooper, Mr Greenwell, Mr Kenny and the Rent-a-Poms. Their dedication has motivated five groups of Hale boys in the area of censervation and restoration. No doubt next year's group will be similarly devoted and set new heights in Hale Rottnest Reafforestation. Perhaps a little more publicity would help to promote the project and thus encourage others to follow Hale's lead.

Finally, any young Hale student who wants to do something challenging with benefits to himself, the public in general and the environment of Rottnest, should get involved in the Hale Rottnest Reafforestation and Maintenance Programme.

P.C.B. Davey Buntine Yr. 12. Foreman, Rottnest Reafforestation, 1987. 1987 Group Member: Christian (Politics) Porter, Andrew (Mushroom) Mutzig, Garrick (Spaceman) Morrison, Kingsley (Smithy) Smith, Time (Mick) Burton, David (Nose) Libby, Ian (Eon) Gurry, Peter (Beer Can) Whitfield, Campbell (Egg) Wood, Nick Cook, Mark (Yep-Ah) Leuba, Mitchell Morison, Dugald (Doogs) McGlashan, Luke (Earring) Ricketts, John (Sicko) Perryman.

Thanks go to Paul for this critical and thought — provoking article. It is with regret that we note that the main-stay of this important Hale enterprise, Mr "Jo" Eyres, is leaving Hale. On behalf of the school, and of all lovers of Rottnest's natural tranquility, we thank him sincerely for all the hard work and planning that he has put into this project. We hope that his efforts have not been in vain. We should all resolve to carry on the good work. Ed.)

Googooewon — The Place of Trees

The time: Thursday 28th May, 8.30am. The place: the main Hale School foyer. The situation: Hale School students from years 8 to 12 standing, sitting, fidgeting with envelopes and with money. The reason: they had been told by a prominent figure to "BE THERE!". More importantly, word had spread that the 1987 School Play, "Googooewon — The Place of Trees" was a spectacle not to be missed.

Googooewon was the sixth play written and produced by Mr. Jeffrey Hopkins. In the tradition of "Brother Love" "Reflections" "Adam" and "Serenade" the 1987 production "Googooewon" was once again a musical. The play encapsulated the plight of Alchemy International in annexing land in the Kimberleys of Western Australia, the exploration of the Uranium deposits in the region and the foiling of this quest by a group of Scouts. Perhaps the most important aspect of the School Play and indeed the Hale Drama Society is that it draws from all facets of life at Hale School and thus the result brings about a team of diverse yet supreme talent. All who participate in the School Play belong to a team, each individual is a spoke of the wheel with a job to be done.

A considerable proportion of that wheel is made up of the Show Band, under the guidance of Mr. Bernard Harvey, who has been at the helm of the pick of Hale Musicians for no less than six years with his unrivalled expertise, and panache, in this field, as Musical Director, Members of the band rehearsed tirelessly and all received symbols for their efforts while P. Davey, A. Heinrichs, S. Waddell and N. McKenna received colours for their contributions at a particularly high level. Mr. Tom Greenwell led the vounger generation in chorus practice for many a lunch time and it all seemed worthwhile with a memorable "Dream — time Sequence" involving the majority of the cast. In his first association with Hale Drama, Mr. Jeff Carroll, stepping in to replace Mr. Stewart (who was writing a commission for the York Festival), illustrated he was a fine showman whose lively, witty and touching songs complemented this production. We hope Mr. Carroll will find time in his busy schedule to work with us again.

For nearly all members of the team there is applause at the end of each performance. For some, there is none. These students work as hard, if not harder, than anyone who appears on the stage. They are the stage crew. For the second year in a row, after only three years at the school, Mr. Graham Lange took on the responsibility of Stage Manager in producing a spectacular set. His disciplined approach to this job could only be admired by all those who saw him working. While on the subject of the sets, mention must be made of Mr. Robin Johnson and his prowess in the field of Manual Arts for his help in set construction, which is being rewarded with an extension to the Memorial Hall for such activities. Mr Bill Van Oijen typifies perfection. He seems to be quietly moving around on stage with no apparent results in early rehearsals. Suddenly, with a week before opening night, the stage becomes alive with lights and voices being projected through microphones and speakers. Mr Van Oijen's dedication to Hale Drama was exemplified on opening night when visual apparatus was set up backstage for the cast.

The Board members of Alchemy International produce a little executive magic during their number in the school play.

The First Cooloongup Scout Troop and members of the Googooewon Tribe consisted mainly of Year 8 and 9 students and played a major role in the success of the play, particularly with "Dib Dib Dob" and "Dreamtime". The Scout Patrol Leaders, Rick Stephenson (Matthew Gebbie) and Grey Smythe (Greg Erskine) worked together particularly well to humorously entertain their audience, with their contrasting personalities. Dinewan played by Ben Laden typified the apparent gravity of the situation with his portrayal of the youthful leader of the "Googooewon Tribe" adding class after his previous performances for Havnes House and in both "Reflections" and "Adam". His sidekick Al played by Rawden Petitt was an enchanting character of mixed creed, and unbelievable one liners.

To the members of the Board of Alchemy International: Percival R. Adams (A. Woodall), Charles B. Cochoran (M. Jorgensen), Francis A. Davenport (S. McDonagh), Terence E. Gray (A. Mutzig — who received colours for his five years involvement at a level characteristic to him), Claude M. Hulbert (P. Maidment), Richard W. Murdoch (B. Zempilas) and Harold J. Warrender (S. Bladen), all of whom performed extremely well in the opening scene with the "Members of the Board" whether old hand or new hats to the school play. The Secretary to the Board was played to a 'T' by M. Farr as Oliver S. Crettindon, with B. Hewitt as the aptly named Treasurer, Cornelius Pennyweiser.

Christian Porter was particularly convincing in his role as Oscar Browning, O.A. Chairman of the Board, which may augur well for his future business career, and as a result earned colours for his performance and also for last year as Sir

Magnus Manifold in "Serenade".

Stephen Darragh was so good at portraying the clumsy scout master, Wendall Wallace, that many thought it was part of the act when he would march out of beat! Stephen gave a polished performance, as he did last year as Eric Nider "Spider" in "Serenade" and with his part in his House play "A Cabinet Casanova and a Sugar Daddy Scout".

Mitchell Morrison was rewarded with colours for his portrayal of Wynard Browne — the fast talking, fast marrying, faster drinking Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and for his four previous years in School Plays. His ever present personal private secretary Penrith Downing (S. Love) is also worthy of note.

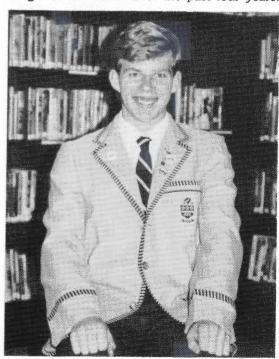

The dreamspeaker of the Googooewon tribe, Kaijek, alias Greenough Greenham alias Matthew Williams was typical of the play's "twisting nature" and Matthew's leadership both on and backstage were a credit to him. Congratulations on receiving Drama Colours in his debut.

What can be said about a final c haracter that has not already been said? Cartland Couvate secretary Penrith Downing (S. Love) is also worthy of note.

The dreamspeaker of the Googooewon tribe, Kaijek, alias Greenough Greenham alias Matthew Williams was typical of the play's "twisting nature" and Matthew's leadership both on and backstage were a credit to him. Congratulations on receiving Drama Colours in his debut.

What can be said about a final character that has not already been said? Cartland Couture: — his ad-libbing, his pomp, his dancing, his modesty, his song; but who was he?

Last, but not least, to the recipients of the Cartland Courture award for the best actors in a School Play: Simonn Bladen and Peter Maidment. They have sung duet after duet to the delight of thousands over the past four years.

N. McKenna (Drama/Music Colours)

They have shared a dream and a twist. Their acting careers may end at Hale or may continue but their talent has not been rivalled as yet, and with their performances as Lady Cecily Farrington (Simon) and Ms. Estella Charles (Peter Maidment) "The Philanthropic Ladies" will not be forgotten for a long time.

What more can be said of a school activity such as this? The feeling of achievement and satisfaction is unsurpassed when involved in such a worthwhile activity. The knowledge gained from such an educational experience is unparalleled. Involvement is the key and when you experience working with someone of Mr. Hopkins' calibre, when he asks you for a "rehearsal" you pay him the respect he deserves and give him one. The results are on the "boards"!

S. McDonagh Year 11 Parry.

Googooewon'87

A Personal View.

It all started on Wednesday 18th February, a couple of weeks after the start of the year. AUDITIONS! This in itself is a sort of do-or-die night, with the next 13 weeks of rehearsals relying on it. You sit down feeling really small in the hall and Mr Hopkins (who throughout the next few months gets called anything but that) calls through the parts.

As the main character's parts come around, there is a mad shuffle for the stage. Mr Hopkins is a seasoned producer however, and takes no notice but in fact lights a cigarette very cooly.

On it goes for three hours and by the end of it you have tried out for every main part except, on the whole, the ones where you have to sing solos. The parts are given out and you either go home happy or hating the guy who got 'your' part.

So you wait a week or two until your first rehearsal occurs. This is when you get the first hint of what the play is going to be about, because, you are yet to find the time to read the script.

There are now fewer people (those who were "desperate" about a part and didn't get it have not surfaced) to fill the minor parts but you surive it

So rehearsals go on and on and more cigarettes are burnt down to the finger in frustration (by Mr Hopkins only!). The next brilliant idea is to do homework between scenes. You promise yourself you will get maths and history homework done, so you get in a very enthusiastic mood. The one major problem is that after numerous yells from below to be quiet you have only achieved the answer to one question. It wasn't that important anyway, was it ... really?

You contine bringing homework but also keep doing nothing because as soon as you get serious it's a scene you're in.

By the 152nd rehearsal or 8th of April you have but one read through left before the holiday break. All goes well except for that one person, the poor guy who still doesn't know the words to the second line of verse two in 'Dib, dib, dob'. At this stage he wishes he wasn't alive as all the pressures of the term are let out by Mr Hopkins, whose voice reaches ten decibels and everyone runs for cover.

The break does arrive! Vacation over and the first Wednesday we're all back to the hall at 6.30

After another few years or what seems like it, dress rehearsals are upon us. All the uniforms once measured to fit, seem now to be too small and all chest buttons are on the verge of bursting. Some swaps are done but on the whole the only possible way is to be uncomfortable.

There are always bad nights, and dress rehearsals are the worst possible times for these inevitable slip-ups. Mr Hopkins spent countless hours leading us through the seemingly endless practices, to his credit, but not without losing his temper on the odd occasion.

M. Williams (Drama Colours)

When the 27th May 1987 arrived everything fell into place as promised and it was fantastic. So were both the following performances with the crowds, lights and dress.

There were a few anxious moments a month or so before, when we thought we would be playing to only a handful of people but, all worked out with crowd numbers well up.

Thanks mostly to Mr Hopkins with his script and time, "Googooewon '87" was excellent to perform in.

M. Gebbie Haynes Yr. 10.

Wittenoom Report

With the future of the Hale Wittenoom programme looking shaky after last year's tragedy, the 1987 programme got under way during second term. Mr Heibner, with the assistance of James Wood and Rent-a-Pom Alex Clarke, skilfully managed this season's itinerary making it a great success.

These two weeks for each Year 11 provide a unique and unforgettable experience for all those who participate. The two weeks bring together boys who may not usually see each other in normal school life, developing their characters and bringing out leadership potential.

Twelve groups made up the programme this year and were required to perform the number of traditional feats including the Mulga Downs walk, Fortescue Jump and the challenge of being faced with the infamous camp pie, tuna, and salada buscuits for lunch each day.

Group 1 proved to be the big walkers of 1987 led by the athletic Mr Welsh who, after the 35 kms of hard walking to Range Gorge, was not the most popular bloke in the group. Phil George and Kent Turkich provided the entertainment for the two weeks, with Kent embracing the tarmac on arrival back in Perth. At bush camp Nigel Faulkner, Tim Addis and Micheal Cawood were blessed with the presence of Mr Welsh due to a large number of ants over-taking his own tent. Brendan Boxhorn found Lunch Pool not to his liking after landing painfully on his back and obtaining multiple bruises. By the time the fortnight was over and the group safely on their way home, they could look back to the stories from David Matyear and the shouts from Chris Blakeney, possibly still wondering who threw that rock!

Under the veteran guidance of Mr Sonntag, Group 2 the geology group, arrived at Wittenoom with the intention of applying theory to the land about them and investigating whether the incredible stories of cliff climbing and suicide leaps that had amplified over the generations had any truth in them at all. After one and a half weeks of incessant babbling about the meaning it would have to his life, Nick Durell finally leapt off Fortescue. The thunderclap resulting from his sideways landing was not the only side affect, judging by his bulging eyes and open mouth. Andrew Reynolds and Adam Benson were both given the prestigous title by Mr Sonntag of "typical Australians" and Travis Draper became renowned for his bombies at Cathedral Pool.

Group 3 was led by an experienced Wittenoom campaigner in Mr Farmer, who displayed his antics frequently during their stay. This included conning the group into believing that the record for the longest stay in Circular Pool was 17 minutes, and of course there were some who attempted to break this record and suffered. Dane Birdseve managed to arrive an hour late into bush camp, maintaining that there was a gorge in his way. Mark Pudovskis was presented with his hat cooked medium-rare, Mark Chapman's surfing magazine accompanied him everywhere, while Oliver Mann spent his whole two weeks centered around his "Dead Kennedeys" tape which ended up in the camp fire much to the appreciation of the rest of the group.

Old boy Ean Baird accompanied Group 4 for their two weeks. After a slow start, with Ean missing the flight from Perth, the group landed on Wittenoom and immediately searched the town for all the available shops. After a few days of travelling in the back of the four-wheel drive, John Goyder soon resembled Ginger Meggs and Neil O'Halloran looked like a pure-blood aborigine. Adrian Anastas was always ready to lead with a compass in hand, but was at a loss without one, as discovered when he and Simon Lowe could not find bush camp on the way back from Joffre Falls and had to be found. While waiting around in Paraburdoo, Lorne Inverarity went to visit his aunt and Peter Broadhurst eyed out all passing V8 utes.

Group 5 was taken to Wittenoom by the experienced Mr Gray. However, due to a knee injury, Mr Heibner had to lead the group on their many walks and also for the week at bush camp. while Mr Gray took over as resident master. This group continued on the Hale community spirit when they rescued a damsel in distress who had spent three hours trapped below 'the slide' in Knox Gorge. Andrew Johnson managed to starve everyone at bush camp, except where onions were concerned. This contributed to the numerous odours that followed the group. After the two weeks, Michael Kakulas had become a social animal and an experienced radio man, while Shaun Massey and Brad Hitchcock were the high fliers of Group 5 jumping anything anutime.

Group 6, led by Mr Campbell, was the smallest group to go up to Wittenoom this year. Consisting of just eight boys it was a very close knit team with the advantages of having more food per person and there being plenty of room in the back of the vehicle. Throughout the two weeks several catch-phrases arose including "Yeah mate" "Benny" "Get your gear off" and "Stop groveling Harvey". During the stay Justin Fidge managed to fall in a stream while brushing his teeth, (Uncle) Sam McDonagh showed his great leadership qualities and Adrian Tomlinson developed a knack of finding the right track while Anthony "Sherman" Hogg walked through everything.

Under the watchful eye of Mr Harvey, Group 7 spent fiteen adventurous days in and around Wittenoom. These were highlighted by Xavier Dhalluin's unfortunate accident (resulting in him being sent home to acquire a new set of front teeth) and the honour of being the first group to have all leapt some 44 feet from the infamous Fortescue leap, yes even Basil Zempilas did! Wayne Burnett demonstrated how not to jump off Town Pool by landing in the famed 'dunny drop' position, coming up with a rather sore behind. Scott "Lozza" Kettlewell was first off the 61 foot Lunch Pool, closely followed by Hamish 'Alf' Cameron, William Roy and Michael Simpson. These were just a few of the events that all added up to help teach Group 7 a new way of life.

Group 8 were guided by Mr Alderson and, although a very mixed bag of personalities, proved a very successful group. The only upset was when it rained on their overnighter to Dales Gorge forcing them to spend the night under a rock ledge, totally drenched. John Viner forgot to take his shoes away from the fire, burning them accordingly. Michael Brown and Steven Del Basso were not going to take any chances with the local water, always drinking through a filter mask. Group 8 played against the local townsmen in the first of two cricket "Tests". After a very heated game with its moments of glory for both sides, Hale lost to the Country XI by seven runs.

Led by Mr Nunn, Group 9 managed to make its mark on Wittenoom in several ways. They decided to see how well spinifex burns and so doing managed to burn down a couple of hectares of bush camp. A number of anthills met their destruction from the feet of these marauding adventurers. Finally, they successfully cracked James Wood who after six weeks had probably seen enough of Year 11's to last him a lifetime. Michael Jorgenson had an unfortunate accident managing to decapitate a couple of fingernails, and had a communal drowning during one of the frequent mud fights. Justin 'Gnome' Clapin decided to leap off every jump in his army boots. Chris Vanzetti enjoyed standing at the edge of gorges and shouting down at people below, and Bill Keech used the stay as an excuse not to wash for two weeks so he could play being a nigger out on the hikes.

Group 10, led by Mr Brown, turned out to be a very even group with everyone prepared to give anything a go as proven when the entire group leapt off the 61 foot ledge at Lunch Pool, even when Stuart Love blacked out on the way down. This group had many encounters with the local snakes including one laving in wait for Mr Brown in his tent. Scott Rathbone, the geologist, was always picking up rocks to examine, while Dane House would always cook up a batch of scones if anyone was hungry. Nigel Dickens, Robert Wrightson, Peter Negus and Michael Knight made up the band of hippies in the group. equipped with head bands and the like. Overall the two weeks went smoothly except for the flight back to Perth which took eight hours longer than expected due to various malfunctions. warranting a day off school for the group to sleep

Group 11 was masterfully led by Mr Bean who somehow managed to dislocate his shoulder doing a jump on the second day of their two weeks. Aaron Woodall was determined to stay clean while he was up there and Tony Baker avoided every jump like the plague. Travis Hocart and Murray Limmer meditated for an hour at Fortescue trying to find some inner strength to jump. When not meditating Murray Limmer was always coming up with a very poor joke, much to the anguish of the others. The Wittenoom Races were held during the last three days of their stay, boosting the population from 50 to 500, and were thoroughly enjoyed by all with some members making a small profit.

The "Second Test" was played and won by Group 11, against the locals, during their stay. This was achieved thanks to the catch by Peter House, Murray Limmer's bowling and the available refreshments which the locals readily consumed and thus paid the consequences.

The second of the two sporting groups, Group 12 was without their group leader, Mr Pengelley, and Phillip Haynes, for the first week due to various injuries. Amidst the cries of "peacocks" the group flourished. Group 12 was the first group ever to play water polo at Town Pool and also served as bartenders at "The Party" with Damian Baker feeling right at home. Other notable achievements were Chris Marshall's epic Fortescue jumps, many believing he was possessed, and who could forget the pancake marathon where 5-6 dozen eggs were consumed?

Yet again this year's Wittenoom programme proved to be a great success and due thanks must go to resident master Mr Heibner, his two assistant masters Alex Clarke and James Wood, and to all other masters involved this year.

Ski Trip

During the first week of the July Vacation, a group of 31 boys accompanied by Mr Brown and his wife, Mr Jooste and Old boy Kingsley Brown took part in a Skiing Tour to Mount Hotham, Victoria. Mount Hotham is the highest Alpine Ski Resort in Australia being at 1,860m a.s.l. This was the first time a group from Hale has been on a weeks skiing tour and the level of enthusiasm was very high.

The "Midnight Horror" from Perth Airport delivered us at Tullamarine Airport near Melbourne at 5 a.m. Despite little sleep, spirits were high as we boarded our coach for the expected 5 hour bus trip to the snow. Spirits were not quite as high when we alighted from the coach at our hotel in Mount Hotham at 5 p.m. Delays occurred due to late rendezvous with other coaches, putting chains on the tyres when we arrived at snow — covered roads, and pit-stops in the snow for Stuart Blackwell. When we did finally arrive, spirits were uplifted again at the sight of the village and our resort-style hotel (The Arlberg Inn) and by the fact that we no longer had to listen to Kent Turkich's music tapes on the coach.

After moving into our rooms, we familiarized ourselves with the hotel, with its pool and spa, and had a walk around the village. It had not snowed in the past week, yet there was good snow cover on all beginner and intermediate slopes.

At 7.30 we had the first of many excellent meals in the hotel. Soon after we headed for bed in readiness for the morrow's day of skiing.

The next morning after breakfast we struggled into cumbersome ski gear and bundled out into the street to ride the "Zoo-Cart" (the village transport system) to the ski-hire shop. Here we were fitted with ski boots, skis and poles ("ski boots are instruments of torture!") and given passes to ride the lifts up the slopes. Now we were set to ride, glide, slip and slide. Look out other skiiers!

Tim Caporn, Stuart Blackwell and the Year 10 crew managed to terrorise mountain goers with their dare-devil tactics and bare "courage" skiing which represented their release from a stressful term. Our top contingent was led by the "Bewildering Brown Brothers" and the rock'n rolling Henry Willoughby, all of whom conquered the slopes gracefully. Part-time comedian Paul Wallace, Aaron Lillyman and the daring "Woody" represented the Year 12 travellers who always seemed dignified and composed in their falls (often from grace).

Kent Turkich proved he was better at writing postcards than skiing and spent much of his time overseeing the "local talent" - not of the skiing species. Meanwhile, other Year 11's such as Bill Keech, Nathan Howat and John Dutry all concentrated on skiing to culminate in thrillseeker status. The Year 9 group, not to be outdone, proved that they too were capable of handling the slopes, and more than capable of handling mountain food.

The coming of nightfall provided various options ranging from the work of cardsharks in poker games, to patronage of the Inn's "Blue Light Disco" by Kent Turkich, Paul Wallace and Henry Willoughby. Motley tastes in music often lead to confrontation with only one stereo; however tolerance was exhibited.

Four days of skiing under sunny skies were terrific as snow began to disappear. In a dramatic fifth and final day at Hotham, we were able to experience snow storm conditions, and with it fresh snow. After cleaning our rooms without much success (special mention to Bill Keech), we climbed aboard a bus bound for Melbourne. Fortunately, it was much quicker going down.

Arriving late at night in Melbourne (staying at the Kingsgate Hotel) we retired to our rooms, preparing to strut the streets of Melbourne the next morning.

Happy with their purchases at the Melbourne Market most of the tour headed for the football at the M.C.G. awaiting the chance to see the clash between North Melbourne and Fitzroy. Once it became obvious that Norths would win, many of our group became far more vocal in their barracking for the Kangaroos. Former Captain of School Mark Hepburn, now playing for North Melbourne, came and spoke to us in the notorious Bay 13.

Sadly, after an excellent fun week, we dejectedly bussed to the airport to board the Perth-bound plane.

Our special thanks go to Australasian Tour Services and Mr Brown for a very successful trip from which all must have benefitted. The experience has attracted many of us to a serious consideration of further skiing.

Swimming

The 1987 P.S.A. Interschool Swimming Carnival was probably the end of an era in Hale swimming. After winning 18 years in succession. losing in 1985, and winning again last year, the loss this year by 199 points marks a turning point in Hale School swimming.

The team started training from day one with the enthusiasm that reflected last year's win. Quite a few team members trained throughout the summer holidays in preparation for the season. The start of term saw the unfortunate loss of Jason Cassidy from the team, although, last year's Open champion Steven Lovell remained. After time trials, the team was added to by twenty or so year 8 swimmers who would be vital if we were to have a chance of winning.

Tradtionally the squad competed in a meet against Scotch College on the second Saturday of term. The times from the meet were about on par with last year's times although Scotch seemed to lack ability.

The following weeks had the team entering into a vital period of training, where the hard slogging had to be done. In this period dedication and attitude were vital, and the small but select squad showed these attributes better than most other years of Hale swimming.

With two weeks until the 'Inters' the team started to come together as a unit. That week the squad competed in the "Triggs Iron-Man Classic" in favourable conditions at Scarborough beach. The event was held as a diversion from the hard training and aimed at increasing team spirit. Also in that week we received a "late night" visit from the St Hilda's swim team. The informal meet was enjoyed by all, except the Christ Church "spy" team who had difficulty driving home that night.

With the fun over, the preparation for the 'Inters' in a week's time began with the Hale School Swimming Championships on Saturday. Although conditions were good, only one record fell - J. Legge equalled Chad Miller's time of 26.1

seconds in the Open 50m. freestyle.

That night at the Quads competition (not including Hale) the realization emerged of a real threat in the Christ Church team with their fast times and their huge win.

The final week had the team twice going to Beatty Park running challenges and generally fine-tuning in preparation for the weekend.

That Saturday at Beatty Park Aguatic Centre saw the annual Interschool Swimming Carnival held in fine weather and tremendous atmosphere.

Right from the start of the freestyle events Hale were trailing, until the end of the freestyle events when they were 28 points behind — a grim position to be in considering last year's 8 point lead.

The breast stroke events followed, in which Hale is traditionally strong. This year we lacked that advantage over the field. In the Open breast stroke, J. Legge broke Peter Evans 100m time by creating a new interschool record by over 2 seconds.

Hale continued to slip behind throughout the backstroke and butterfly events to finish the individual events 112 points behind. It was then realized that the Cup was far gone and that we would have to fight from fourth place to gain a respectable second. During the butterfly events J. Legge broke a school record in the 50m butterfly with a time of 27.8 seconds.

The relay events proved to be a nightmare for Hale with two relays being disgualified. However, the U13 medley relay consisting of T. Plant, B. Pateman, G. Ison and J. Morphett, broke a school record.

Eventually, Hale ended up 199 points down at the end of the night, finishing in third position. Final points were: Christ Church 797, Scotch 661, Hale 598, Aquinas 578, Wesley 524, Guildford 353 and Trinity 336.

The massive turn around of 309 points in favour of Christ Church from last year can be attributed to many things. Firstly, the Hale team had unbelievably bad luck with close finishes especially in the all important relays. Secondly the loss of J. Cassidy meant over 100 points in his age-group alone. Thirdly, the disqualification of the two relays set Hale back over 70 points, and finally, it could be said that the best team wins on the night and it just was not Hale's night.

Although many excuses can be given, the fact still remains that the swimmers gave 100 per cent on the night with 50 Hantke standard times achieved and numerous personal best times swum.

The team would like to thank many people but most importantly Mr Les Nunn. His time and devotion to the team should be realized and credited. In working with him, I discovered that many hours were spent on the preparation of the team and the organisation. Although, I feel, he personally knew it would be very difficult to win this year, he stuck to his task and told no one of his thoughts.

Thanks must also go to Richard Pengelley who assisted Les and who put his experience into the training of the boys. Our appreciation too, to Chris Blackwell and Nick Allan for their support in training. Thank you, too, to Mr Varty and the people involved with morning breakfast which is such an important part of the training schedule.

On a more personal note, I would like to acknowledge my vice-captains Rob Morrison and Jason Shaw who were positive in their support. Thank you, too, to their Mothers Mrs Jane Morrison and Mrs Louise Shaw, and to all parents who gave up their time to support Hale swimming.

Mr L. Nunn and Mr R. Pengelley.

Craig Ryan.

Finally, it is obvious that Hale's dominance over P.S.A. swimming is over for a few years but I hope that in years to come that the tradition and honour involved with Hale swimming will drive us to regain the Cup.

Inter House Swimming Carnival

The annual inter-house swimming carnival was held at the Hale swimming pool in good conditions. Last year's runners-up, Haynes, this year clinched all four swimming trophies, including the G.N. Altorfer for overall points. Thank you to all teachers involved, and again, congratulations to Mr. Lange and his team.

James Legge Swimming Captain.

Basketball 1987

Hale and Trinity shared the 1987 Blackwood Cup — both teams losing one game. Hale has now won the Cup for the past four years (twice outright and twice shared). An imposing record.

The season began with a disastrous 20-35 loss to Trinity. A 4-12 second half was indicative of the low standard of the game. Hale's poorest performance for many years.

The inclusion of guards Elliot Bruton and Clive Pickford, and the moving of Brendan Barrows from centre to forward provided the impetus for a much improved showing against Guildford. A 48 point second half, with strong performances from Matt Farr and Brendan Barrows, secured a comfortable 67-26 victory.

From here on the team played consistent, spirited basketball to defeat Aquinas: 55-33 (Barrows scoring 34 points in an outstanding rebounding performance), Scotch: 41-34 (a typically tough encounter), Wesley: 57-34, Christ Church: 52-20.

Round 4 saw Scotch inflict Trinity's only defeat of the season and set up the sharing of the cup.

The highlight of the season was to make the final of the School Boy's Championships — defeating Trinity and All Saints College to qualify. The final was played in the Superdrome as the curtain raiser for the Wildcats v Westars game. Despite losing by 10 points to a very polished Willeton team, it was a real experience to play in such a game. Perhaps 1988 will see us go one better?

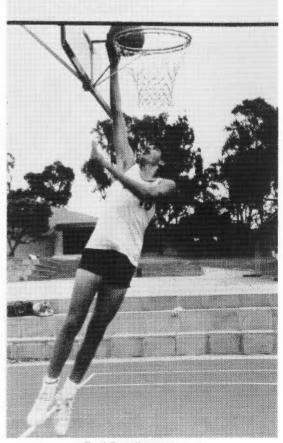

Congratulations to Brendan Barrows on his leadership and outstanding rebounding. A deserving recipient of colours.

Cricket

The 1986-87 cricket season for Hale was one of mixed success. The team which showed promise on paper did not perform up to its expectations and as a result enjoyed only moderate success. Many important aspects of the game were learnt and this augurs well for future improvement for Hale in the Darlot Cup.

In the Ray Gamble Competition for fourth term, we performed reasonably to finish in the middle of the field with one win, one loss and one draw.

And so to the Darlot Cup. Hale finished the season in fifth position with three wins and three losses. On two out of three occasions that we lost, we had excellent chances of forcing victories before the luck went against us and the game eventually slipped away. Reversals in these results could well have boosted us to a far more prominent position on the table. Congratulations must go to the undefeated winners of the Darlot Cup for 1987, Wesley, who proved themselves worthy champions in an even competition.

The first match of the season against Trinity at Hale was somewhat of a disappointing beginning. Hale batted first and after some solid contributions from Richards and Fry, coupled with some determined lower order batting, managed to reach a total of 186, a score in reality worth about 210 due to the slow outfield.

The Trinity openers started confidently and with all ten wickets still in hand at lunch it was going to be a tough assignment for our bowlers. They responded well and at one stage the visitors were in trouble at 6/150, a situation that could have been far worse if a controversial decision had gone our way and dismissed one of their most reliable batsmen. Eventually they overtook our total with just two wickets in hand. It was a courageous effort from our bowlers of whom Harris was the pick with a four-wicket haul.

The next week Guildford caught us on the rebound from our first-up loss and as a result we put on one of our best efforts of the year to win convincingly. After another solid start by Harris and Fry we faltered in the middle order to be in a shaky position at stumps. The next morning Tringas and Adonis resurrected the situation to see Hale close at 9-189, an adequate score on the slow Craig Oval.

Once again we had trouble separating the opening pair and ten wickets remained in hand at lunch.

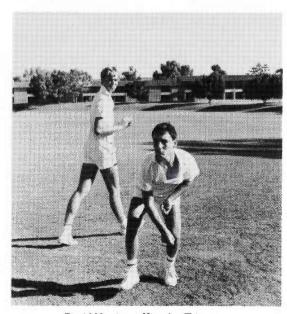

At that stage of the game it would have been impossible to foresee the events that would pass. All of a sudden our bowlers found the right line and length and the Guildford batsmen were subsequently tied down. As a result they were forced to play false shots and take risky singles and before they knew it a score of 0/54 had changed to 6/64. Guildford never recovered fully and were eventually dismissed for a moderate total of 137. It was another fine performance from our bowlers and our fielding seemed to be lifting. We now had a win on the board and were looking forward to bigger and better things.

With that win behind us, as well as some added confidence, we were now looking forward to a strong showing in our first away game of the season, against Aquinas.

Batting first, Hale was again given an excellent start by the consistent Fry and Richards and was in a strong position at 3/116 midway through the first afternoon. As in the opening two games the middle order again faltered and we capitulated to be all out for 165 early on Saturday morning. Against potentially the strongest batting line-up in the P.S.A it was a near impossible assignment for our persistent bowlers and the home team were never threatened and made the runs with six wickets in hand. Morison produced a fiery spell of bowling and finished with a just reward for his efforts, a four wicket total. At this stage of the season it was obvious where we were falling down. Firstly, the inability of our top six or seven to reach a half century and go on with it and secondly the sacrificing of runs through negative running between wickets and lapses in fielding.

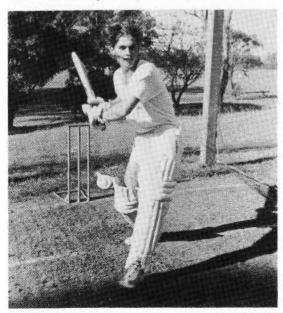

David Harris - Kingsley Tringas.

As far as improvement went, the following match (victory against Scotch) was the most satisfying of the entire Darlot Cup season. Scotch won the toss and elected to bowl first, a decision they soon regretted. For almost three hours the opening pair of Fry and Harris systematically took the Scotch attack apart in a magnificent opening stand of 144. For Harris, the innings ended most unfortunately as he was dismissed for 99. After another good contribution from Adonis the Hale innings closed at a mammoth 9-293 believed to be the highest score by a Hale first eleven side in many years. Our reliable bowling attack once again backed up our batsmen ably to give Hale their second win of the season, by the excellent margin of 84 runs. With our batsmen and bowlers all in good form, the clash against competition leader Wesley the following week loomed as a tough clash for both teams and even though we could not win the cup we were eager to have some bearing on the final outcome of the competition.

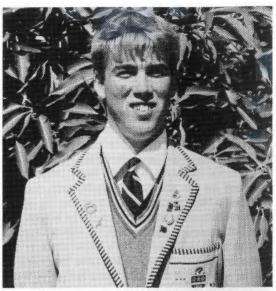

For the fifth game in a row Hale batted first and against the Wesley bowling attack, which provided more venom than all others, it was a creditable performance to reach a score of 212. The highlights of the innings being another half-century by Harris and a characteristic gritty, face-saving innings by Tringas, typical of the stablizing efforts he had produced in the middle order for the whole season.

Given a healthy total to defend, our bowlers gave it all they had and at various stages had the vistors on the ropes at 4/71 and 7/169 before their Derek Fry batting. Note that he can still see through his hair!

D. Harris (Cricket Colours Football Colours)

tailenders rallied to bring them home by 3 wickets. Morison once again stole the limelight with four wickets. This was a strong performance by the entire team which deserved much praise.

The last game against Christ Church at Christ Church was a great way to finish off the year. The team put it all together and gave an awesome display in all respects of the game.

Bowling first for the only time during the season, Hale ripped through the home team's batsmen with a mixture of express pace from Morison and line and length from Harris. Both finished with four wickets and helped rout Christ Church for 134.

The hard pitch, coupled with a slick outfield, proved a welcome treat for the Hale batsmen and the opposition's total was reached shortly after lunch in almost even time. Batting on, we were treated to a magnificent partnership of 142 by Tringas and Adonis. The innings of 108 by Adonis was a free-flowing, powerful effort that was a fitting way to end his great season. The same can be said for Tringas who was extremely unlucky to fall two runs short of a richly deserved half century. We closed at 7/250 but were unable to force the outright. Nevertheless it was a fabulous way to complete the year.

Whilst on the subject of individual performances, congratulations must be forwarded to Captain David Harris on being awarded colours. It was a great all-round season from Harris who scored the most runs as well as taking the most number of wickets. Also his astute Captaining often helped us out of a tight situation, making him the complete cricketer.

It was a tough season and in such a high standard of competition it was always going to be hard to finish amongst the top three teams.

Nevertheless, it was a season that will be of great benefit to the Year 11 members of the squad who will be joined by a winning Year 10 team for next year . . . but let's not make any predictions just yet.

Finally, many thanks must go to all the mothers for their wonderful efforts in preparing the enjoyable lunches and afternoon teas, to Mr Gibbon for his work in fourth term 1986, to Mr Maetam for his advice at training and, mostly, thanks to Mr Chadwick who took on the added responsibility of team manager, in the absence of Mr Gibbon during the Darlot Cup season. As well as coaching, Mr Chadwick's experience in the game and his vast knowledge gave the team an added advantage over our rivals and after three years of this demanding job it is time we gave him the reward of a Darlot Cup!

Tennis Report

Although results were down on previous years, Hale tennis players again performed well with the year 8's 9's and 10's all winning their respective competitions.

The 1st VIII's preparations began when they played a strong Old Boys team consisting of players such as Eugene Simkovic, Justin Johns and Chris Johnstone in which the Old Boys easily accounted for the school.

With the results from 4th term last year, Hale knew that its only real opposition would come from Christ Church and thus it was hard to get motivated for the early matches.

Hale began the Corr Cup season convincingly winning its first 3 matches against Trinity, Guildford and Aguinas very easily.

On the weekend between Aquinas and Scotch, the Hale Tennis Championships were held. In the Open Doubles, Peter Faulkner and Simon Bladen upset Mark Leuba and Ashley Johns. In the Open Singles, Mark Leuba played consistently to easily defeat Peter Faulkner. Natham Howat defeated Wayne Burnett in the 16's and the 14's was won by Michael Spartalis.

In the following two matches, Hale needed little effort to overome Scotch and Wesley.

On the weekend of the 22th March, Hale's Slazenger Team of Mark Leuba, Peter Faulkner, Simon Bladen and Ashley Johns defended the Cup for the fourth consecutive year but they were convincingly beaten by a strong Christ Church team 6 rubbers 12 sets 84 games to 0 rubbers 2 sets 36 games. Both Mark Leuba and Simon Bladen fought close 3 set matches and were unlucky to lose.

In the final match of the year, Hale was to play Christ Church at Christ Church and from the results of the Slazenger Cup the previous week, Hale knew they would have to play strongly to win.

The 1st VIII spent the week at Wembley Downs Tennis Club to gain valuable practice on grass and the team was keen and playing well, aided by the help of Mr Ledgar.

The team was confident on the day and a last minute reshuffle looked to be to our advantage. The 1st VIII though were easily beaten by a stronger opposition which ended Hale's three year run. Our congratulations go to Christ Church who won the Corr Cup for the first time. Though Hale was beaten in the 1st's it finished first in the overall competition, just ahead of Christ Church. The season was wound up with a barbecue at the Leubas which was enjoyed by all. Special mention must be made of Mark Leuba, the team's captain for his outstanding leadership and support. He and Chris Johnstone are the only players to be awarded Honours.

Finally all members of the school's teams would like to thank the coaches Mr Wapnah, Mr Cooper, Mr DeFrenne, Mr Greenwell and Mr Hutchinson for their time and effort throughout the season. The 1st VIII would like to thank the parents, Mr Keith Hinks, Mr B Edgar, Mr Hutchinson and especially Mr Panarese for all the time and organisation they put into the squad.

Rowing

The 1987 rowing season was one which had more than its fair share of ups and downs with fortunes varying widely in all age and crew divisions. It saw also what the last organized Head of the River race on the Narrows course. Poor weather conditions encountered on the day of the race caused only the second ever cancellation in its 88 year history, the regatta being held the following Monday on the Canning course. Some Hale crews felt disadvantaged at this but the extreme conditions on the Saturday made the decision justifiable.

Throughout the season, many "tireless" efforts were put in by coaches and boys alike with training sessions beginning at 5.30 a.m. or 4.00 p.m. daily. Rowing is a sport which requires much courage and determination and this was exemplified in a multitude of incidents that occurred throughout the season. Despite this the season was generally enjoyable and, at times, successful. The seemingly decreasing number of boys competing for positions in crews is, however, a little alarming and this possibly explains why Hale's success was only moderate.

1987 also saw the last year of Mr Simpson as Rowing Master. He has held this very demanding position for over 6 seasons and has handled it well throughout. He has earned the appreciation of all rowers past and present.

The 1st VIII division this year was dominated early on by Christ Church but their superiority was gradually pegged back. As a result in the predictions for the Monday Head of the River race many were tipped to win, including Hale. Early season performances may have justified this, but injuries incurred less than two weeks before the "Head" saw Hale having to make major changes at the wrong end of the season.

Monday was the first time the two new members of the crew had competitively rowed over 2000m and the disappointing seventh place did not truly reflect the efforts put in. The crew did their best under the unfortunate circumstances as did the ever-creative coach John Vos. Congratulations are sent to Aquinas who dominated the Regatta overall and who won the 1st VIII race. Hale was naturally very disappointed with the result and improvement next year looks almost certain. With Mr Bean taking over as Rowing Master a new breed of enthusiasm within the school should eventuate with more competition for crew placings being the obvious development. Clearly this is where schools such as Aquinas suceed. All year 12 rowers wish Mr Bean all the best with this unenviable and onerous task and look forward to the future.

Finally on behalf of all rowers I would like to thank the following for their tireless efforts throughout the season.

Football

It was Scotch's year again. Their even team was skilful and disciplined and are warmly congratulated on winning the ten games and the Alcock Cup. Hale and Aquinas shared second place, each losing the once to each other, to Guildford once and each playing well for a time against Scotch. Our second in '87 means that in the past six seasons Hale has won the Cup twice and been second on three occasions — good footy indeed!

At Guildford we played well, our kicking against Aquinas cost us dearly and we reached top form against Wesley. The rain at Christ Church was no problem, but after a fine first quarter we could not match a talented and tenacious Scotch. At Manning we lacked direction for a time but recovered, and then were outrun in a disappointing second game against a not untalented Guildford.

The twenty third Interstate, held in the July holidays at Hale and St Mary's was memorable indeed and important for our football. Playing with much more aggression, Hale defeated St Leonards 18.28 to 10.4 and then won back the Fisher Plate (so comprehensively lost last year in Adelaide) with a fine win over Scotch 23.9 to 9.4. Fry, Harris, Morrison, Kelton, Baker, Zempilas, Leuba, Ham, Tringas, Kettlewell and Barrows (as captain) were chosen in the 'All Star' team. As always at the dinners, dance, car rally and family days the boys and girls from the four schools mixed marvellously and the Hale boys were great supporters of the successful St Mary's Hockey and Netball teams. The team was most grateful to the boys who officiated at the games and to Mr Colgate, Mr Lange, Mr Edgar, and Mr Uphill who helped organise the week. My special thanks are extended to the wonderful billeting parents (theirs was an enormous contribution), and to Mr Alex Panarese who masterminded the week and organised just about everything. We do thank Alex for all his help with the Carnival over some years and wish him every success as he leaves Hale to enter the world of business.

And then back to the P.S.A.The victory at Aquinas was tremendous and, though injuries were now taking their toll, the team completed its seven Alcock Cup wins by defeating Wesley and Christ Church. In an even team Brendan Barrows in defence, in the centre or in attack, in skill and in feeling was absolutely top class and easily won the fairest and best trophy. At full back David Harris was mostly impassable and he led a resolute defence in which Robby Morrison on a flank and Damian Baker at centre half back were consistently fine players. Basil Zempilas, a ruckman of enormous potential, combined well with the team's cleverest and most consistent player Mark Leuba. These six are congratulated on receiving their colours, but there were others too. The winner of the most improved trophy, Julian Kelton, dominated on a wing and then there was the skill of the rovers Ham and Tringas, the potential of Kettlewell, Brown, Burnett, Marshall, Simpson, Gillard, Boxhorn, Hyde, Walton and the youth of Warren, Webster and Hawkins etc.

The eighteen sincerely thank the morning tea mothers led by Mrs Harris and Mrs Slocombe; the boundary and scoreboard men; Tim Flavel our goal umpire; numerous runners; a number of staff including the coaches of our younger teams. Mr Chadwick, undefeated second eighteen coach Mr Lange (congratulations), Mr Hopkins (always a good judge), our number one supporter Mr Greenwell and especially our very dependable team manager Mr Roy Kelley. As well, we all appreciated the enthusiastic barracking support of the parents, old boys, staff and boys. I pay tribute to Mr Jo Southern for his expert treatment of so many of our injured since 1979. Because of ill health Jo was able to help us for only a part of this year and he will be sadly missed. I sincerely thank the senior players Bunny, David Harris, Brett Slocombe, Mark Leuba and Robby Morrison for their football, their leadership and their help and I congratulate and thank Brendan Barrows, an inspirational captain. Finally, my warmest thanks go to all the players for their efforts at training and in some wonderful games.

B. Barrows (Basketball Colours, Football Colours)

The season was a success. The team worked hard and achieved a high standard of skill and teamwork. We simply lacked the overall spread of talent necessary to match Scotch for the whole game. Apart for the fact that our team was not as even as Scotch, our three defeats can be attributed to the ease with which the opposition ran the ball from our full forward line to their own scoring areas. Sure handball is the key, as is keeping and using the ball and of course knowing when to kick and when to handball remains the dilemma decision in football. Even so, modern footballers don't realise the value of old fashion defence. Tim Gepp (captain of Hale in '77) is accused of being an 'unfair' tagger. In other years all players tagged - wingmen, forwards etc., became taggers or close checking defenders when the ball went past on the way to the forward line and all over the ground players played on opponents. These days inadequate defensive football means teams must score very highly themselves if they are to win. As well as the need to emphasise the skills, to strive for more speed, for quicker reflexes, there is a need for all (forwards especially) to play shoulder to shoulder, to tackle, bump, shepherd, smother and so prevent the 'easy' goals. So if individual and team football remain crucial, so does the realisation that football is hard work, and even if we look okay for '88 (so incidentally do Scotch, Aguinas, Trinity, Guildford), it depends on all of us on the day. It depends on training well, of fighting on when things are difficult, of having a group that bonds so well together and that has enormous pride in their school and in each other. Success comes to those who fight for it. A.J.M.

1st XIII RESULTS

Hale v Guildford

A sound opening. Umpired by two umpires for the first time, the game was always interesting and at times very close. After a slow start, the Hale players led by Fisher, Tringas and Kettlewell (all playing their first games) outran Guildford.

Score: Hale 10.12 defeated Guildford 7.7.

Best: Fisher, Tringas, Barrows, Kettlewell, Morrison, Zempilas.

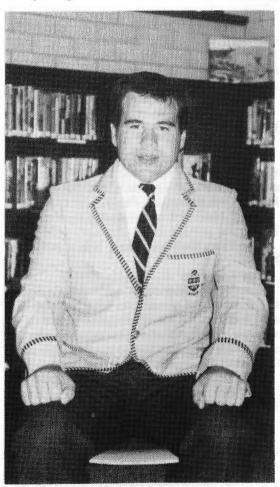

Hale v Aguinas

Hale's poor kicking cost us the game. As usual the game was hard fought and Hale certainly had their chances. The ability of Aquinas to run the ball and tackle ferociously gave them a slight edge.

Score: Hale 8.13 was defeated by Aquinas 10.9. Best: Barrrows, Zempilas, Kettlewell, Lane, Brown, Morrison.

Hale v Wesley

The team played brilliantly to outclass Wesley. The placing of Brown at centre half forward,

D. Baker (Football Colours)

Harris at full back and Baker on the ball worked well and the teamwork was impressive.

Score: Hale 18.8 defeated Wesley 7.6.

Best: Barrows, Kettlewell, Marshall, Brown, Zempilas, Leuba, Tringas.

Hale v Christ Church

In heavy rain, Hale had too much desperation and power for Christ Church. The Hale defence was again superb and the elusive Leuba found form.

Score; Hale 11.10 defeated Christ Church 1.6. Best: Leuba, Baker, Barrows, Marshall, Ham, Kelton, Morrison.

Hale v Scotch

The Scotch speed and system gave them the decision. Hale did well early but after half time could not win enough of the ball and left a number of talented Scotch players unguarded. Brendan Barrows was magnificent!

Score: Hale 6.5 was defeated by Scotch 13.10. Best: Barrows, Kelton, Zempilas, Harris, Brown.

Hale v Trinity

After a sluggish first half, Hale stormed home and won easily. The fine display by Brett Slocombe (in what would be his last game) and the successful debut by Brendan Boxhorn were among the highlights.

Score: Hale 13.21 defeated Trinity 8.6.

Best: Leuba, Barrows, Slocombe, Boxhorn, Baker, Ham, Fisher.

Hale v Guildford

After playing well early in the game, Hale allowed Guildford easy goals late in the second quarter. Guildford's runners won the day after that and they deserved victory.

Score: Hale 12.4 was defeated by Guildford

16.10.

Best: Ham, Barrows, Harris, Baker, Boxhorn, Kelton.

Hale v Aquinas

In perfect conditions Hale and Aquinas slogged out an emotional game. After Hale had played a solid first half, the speedy Aquinas kicked three successive goals in the last quarter to move within one point. Hale's final few winning minutes were the best of the season.

Score: Hale 10.12 defeated Aquinas 10.5.

Best: Baker, Barrows, Harris, Kelton, Brown, Zempilas, Taylor.

Hale v Wesley

Though Hale led at every change, the Wesley skills were impressive. Wesley took the lead early in the final quarter and to win Hale needed a superb last ten minutes. This win meant Hale had won all of its away games.

Score: Hale, 15.8 defeated Wesley 11.9.

Best: Leuba, Ham, Baker, Barrows, Kettlewell, Morrison, Burnett.

Hale v Christ Church

A determined Christ Church matched Hale in the opening quarters. With all players striking form, Hale's eight goal third quarter put the game beyond doubt and the season finished in dazzling style when Mark Leuba took the mark of the year.

Score: Hale 19.15 defeated Christ Church

14.11.

Best: Barrows, Leuba, Harris, Baker, Ham, Burnett, Morrison.

Hockey Report

1987 was a difficult year for the 1st XI with only 3 players remaining from the 1986 team. In spite of this we had a highly successful year and combined well finishing 4th, close behind Christ Church, Scotch and Trinity. Ashley Johns was easily the team's highest goal scorer and aggressively redressed a seemingly perennial goal-scoring problem in 1st teams.

Special mention should be made of the winning Year 8 and 9 teams. Their skills augur well for the future of Hale Hockey.

Thanks must go to all the coaches for their invaluable assistance in the development of player's skills and team spirit, and in particular to Mr Jordan whose efforts in making hockey enjoyable and the team highly competitive were appreciated by all in the 1st XI.

Highlights of the season were the miraculous come-backs against Hotspur and Scotch. With the quite high proportion of Year 10 and 11 players in the team, the coming year looks promising.

HALE 1st XI — GAME REPORTS

vs GUILDFORD

In an encouraging start to the season Hale defeated Guildford 3-1. In the first 20 minutes Guildford were on top and scored but we gradually became more organised up front and were rewarded with 3 goals. GOALS: Haynes, Blackwell and Johns. BEST: Ross, Reading, Johns, Faulkner, Blackwell, Haynes.

vs HOTSPURS

In an entertaining and hard fought game, Hale went down 5-4 to the more experienced veterans, despite Ashley Johns scoring 3 goals in 12 minutes. GOALS: Johns 3, Morison 1. BEST: Johns, Faulkner, Morison.

vs AQUINAS

The 1st XI defeated Aquinas 3-2. Hale dominated in the 1st half with solid defence and innovative forward work, but almost collapsed at the end. This aspect of our game was worrying at the time. GOALS: Johns, Bladen, Morison. BEST: Team.

vs WESLEY

Hale was unlucky to lose to a strong Wesley side 3-2, after a bad defensive lapse allowed them to win. GOALS: Johns, Morison. BEST: Mallabone, Faulkner, Morison.

vs CHRIST CHURCH

In an even game Hale lost 3-1 to Christ Church. Hale's short passing game was unsuccessfully pitted against the long-passing breakaway-type moves of the opposition. Reading saved a penalty stroke but unfortunately Christ Church found the net soon after. GOAL: Bladen. BEST: Davey, Mallabone, Kelly, Haynes.

vs SCOTCH

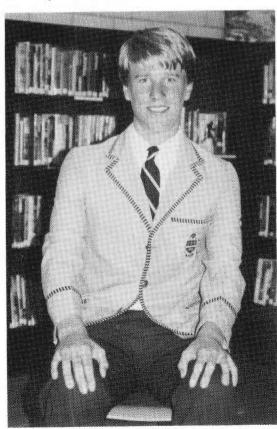

From being 2-0 down at half time, Hale fought back to draw after the close marking systems of Scotch loosened. GOALS: Johns, Mallabone. BEST: Faulkner, Johns, Mallabone, Reading, Morison.

vs TRINITY

Against the top team Trinity, Hale were defeated 4-1 in a game very much played in two halves, Trinity dominating completely the first half and Hale to a lesser extent in the second. GAOL: Johns. BEST: Faulkner, Mallabone, Johns, Haynes, Blackwell.

vs GUILDFORD

Hale defeated Guildford 3-1. The defence played soundly and Mallabone at inside-right was the architect of many attacking moves. GOALS: Johns 2, Morison 1. BEST: Team effort.

vs OLD BOYS The Old Boys dominated early and scored 4 goals to our 1 in the first half, but did not score for the rest of the game. The 1st's came back with 3 goals to draw. GOALS: Johns 2, Davey 1, Mallabone 1. BEST: Faulkner, Blackwell, Haynes, Ross, Johns.

A. Johns (Hockey Colours)

vs AQUINAS The 1st XI played its best game for the season to defeat Aquinas 3-nil. A great team effort. GOALS: Johns 3. BEST: Team effort. vs CHRIST CHURCH In the match to decide 3rd place, Hale lost in an exciting game 2-1 and therefore ended the season a creditable fourth. GOAL: Faulkner. BEST: Team effort.

Rugby

1987 was a year of consolidation for Rugby at Hale.

Our 1st XV finished fourth in the PSA competition, but they improved greatly and lost a number of games by narrow margins. On their performances at the end of the season they merited a higher position on the ladder.

Three heartening developments lower down gave good reason for optimism.

The Year 10 side, last year the only really weak team in Hale's Rugby, improved out of all recognition. They lost no games by a big margin and won the respect of every opponent.

A fine group of 29 Year 8 boys opted to play Rugby. They trained enthusiastically and played very well. They were a big squad with a generous sprinkling of really talented boys. They will do well in the years ahead.

The Year 7 boys won the Caltex Bowl to give Hale Junior School top ranking in Rugby in W.A.

The season ended with our biggest Rugby Dinner at which the following presentations were made:-

Four boys were honoured with State representative selection -

One of the highlights of the season was the Inter-House Sevens competition for the K. S. Jones Cup. This began as a trophy of little prestige, but has become one of the hardest-fought of all Inter-House competitions. Almost the whole School turned out to watch Stirling win an exciting final against Loton House.

First XV. The First XV laboured under the handicap of having the smallest pack of forwards in the PSA competition.

Unable to obtain much clear possession, our very talented backline was rarely able to be the match-winning combination it should have been.

Possession is the most important element in Rugby and any side struggles if it does not at least break even in scrums and line-outs.

Towards the end of the season two players did much to win Hale some ball at set pieces.

Peter Whitfield, after playing as a breakaway and prop, moved into the heart of the "enginetoom" as hooker and served with distinction—not only in scrums but by his whole-hearted play in the loose.

Quinton Hessels, a centre with a crunching tackle, was moved into the forwards in a desperate gamble to win line-out ball and he succeeded admirably.

To their credit the whole Hale pack ran and worked hard to compensate for their lack of size.

There was no doubt that in Ashley Lynn and Andrew Johnson, Hale had the two best centres in the competition.

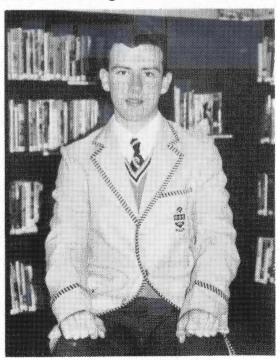

Ashley showed his exceptional ability in guiding Stirling to their Sevens victory. He is blessed with skill, cunning and courage.

It was good to see Anthony Quinn improve so dramatically (thanks to his contact lenses) that he became our regular full-back.

Little Peter Atzemis developed magnificently on the wing and Chris Norman played some devastating games as breakaway.

Two players from some years ago returned to make a great contribution to the team — Neil Richards as five-eighth and Ben Treasure as a winger and forward. It is a shame that they had not been playing for some seasons — they have real ability.

A. Lynn (Rugby Colours)

FINAL. Stirling 12 d Loton 4. THE OLD BOYS' GAME

John Hall, Neil Cumming, Brian Lynn, Jeremy Liddle, Bob Barbour, Michael Kneebone, Konrad Floan, Duncan Booth, Gordon Fraser, Alistair Cooke.

Q. Hessels (Rugby Colours)

The Old Boys produced their usual powerful side. Although they were a couple short and used some of our reserves, many of them were players who had reached State representative standing as schoolboys or colts.

With Jeremy Liddle winning most of the scrums, Duncan Booth and John Hall dominating the line-outs and Brian Lynn dictating the pattern of play from five-eight, there was little the School team could do.

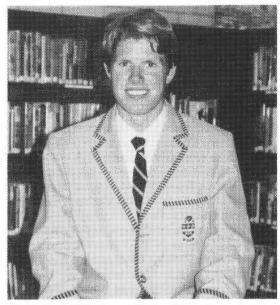

Quinton Hessels and Troy Hindley did good work against their big aggressive forwards and the whole team tried hard but we had problems trying to tackle their strong men running hard.

John Hall scored one try and Duncan Booth two and Brian Lynn kicked two conversions.

After the game the Old Boys made presentations to Duncan Booth and Ashley Lynn — voted the outstanding players in the two sides.

It was a most enjoyable game played in a cheerful relaxed way.

(This is Rev. Russell Davis' final Rugby Report. His dedication, experience and enthusiasm will be greatly missed with Hale's teams. There is, however, a rumour circulating that he is retiring from School so that he can dedicate himself entirely to Rugby! There is no doubt that we will see him at many games in the years to come. Farewell and thanks to one of the great supporters of the game. Ed.)

A. Johnson (Rugby Colours)

Cross Country

Cross Country finished a disappointing 7th in 1987, but this however, is no reflection of the commitment made by the relatively small band of runners.

The season did bring with it some extremely notable performances, especially in the All Schools State Cross Country Championships held at Hale, with the U/15 team (A. Davey, S. Davey, T. Allan) gaining 1st, the U/13 team (Moore, Greaves, Broome) 3rd and the U/17 team (Cassey, Davison, McDonagh) finishing 4th. This exemplified not only the ability which exists but also the apparent lack of depth in Cross Country at Hale School.

The Senior team failed to win a teams race, but the contributions of Cassey, Davison, Opie, Love and Lilleyman through-out the season are noteworthy. Next year will bring more rewarding results as there was no Year 12 student who competed successfully throughout the season. Broome, Greenway and Moore performed well in the middleschool events.

A camp to Rottnest mid-way through the season was taken full advantage of and the efforts of Masters Bean, Brown and Goater were greatly appreciated by all. 1988 will see an improvement.

Soccer 1987

For the first time since 1984, when Hale last played a season of games against the other schools in P.S.A. Hale formed a senior school P.S.A soccer team. It was considered good tactics to make the team a 2nd XI in view of their relative inexperience in comparison to their opponents (who have been playing each other for years). Consequently, an element of uncertainty was added to each of the ten matches (supposedly played against 2nd XI teams) as one would attempt to guess how many of the "enemy" were 1st XI players and how many 2nd XI. This varied and so did the results, but it must be said Hale's opponents played very good soccer on the whole and most of the matches were of a high quality.

After a few matches the team evolved into this general line-up:

STRIKERS: D. La Bianca, C. Humphry, P. Smith, N. Hasagawa.

MIDFIELD: J. Crage, J. Willoughby(Capt), G.Cosford.

DEFENCE: S. Yovich, J. Cooke, B. Osgerby. GOALKEEPER: M. Chapman. SUBSTITUTES: A. Ho. R. Crewe.

A. Ho frequently stepped in for one of the defence and C. Shorthill was goalkeeper for some matches before being forced to bow out due to a mysterious injury. K. Khoo was also an intermittent member of the team.

C. Humphry emerged as top goalscorer for the season, scoring seven times. All the goals were scored by just four of the team. The defence had good days and bad days, sometimes excelling themselves remarkably and sometimes proving weak opposition. In one unfortunate match against Wesley (5-1 against), practically all the goals scored were "own goals".

Training was organized by Mr Pontin. He was helped by Mr La Bianca and thanks must go to them both for taking the time to do this. Hale was usually supported "home" and "away" by a few ardent supporters including Mr Learmonth, the temporary fill-in teacher from England. This was a great morale booster and made the season more enjoyable.

The best match of the season for Hale (if it was not the 3-2 victory over Guildford) would be the last one, a 4-4 draw with Christ Church. Christ Church beat Hale 4-0 on their first encounter earlier in the season.

The season was also characterized by two or three clashes with the Old Boys, a motley crew of bruisers who, if nothing else, helped improve the endurance of the 2nd XI.

Years 8 and 9 had a soccer team each this season and played a full season of matches each. The names of A. Razali, B. Hayes, D. Haines, J. Field and T. Hasagawa (junior) seemed to crop up most often as best players in year 9. M. Heath,

L. Evans and G. Lee were prominent in Year 8. Years 8 and 9 had some good victories and it is good to know that Hale will soon have many more competent players in the senior school. Hopefully this will allow Hale to form a first eleven in the future. Thanks go to Mr Pengelley for the training of Years 8 and 9.

I regard this season as a success because I believe it has helped establish soccer as a viable sport in the senior school as well as the middle school. I hope it continues as a sport next season since this was what we all set out to acomplish.

James T. Willoughby Soccer Captain, 1987.

Squash Report

From the start of the season it was clear that there was some talent in the Hale team but as yet there was no indication of how well the team would perform. Things started well on the 15th May where Hale played Scotch and, though playing with a reserve. Hale won easily 4 rubbers to nil. Hale continued to assert their dominance in the 1st round. However, after winning comfortably in every match, the team experienced a loss to the seemingly invincible Guildford side. The second round which started on the 26th June proved to be a time of change. Team manager Mr Edgar informed the team of the arrival of Ranbir Singh. the Malaysian Squash Champion. At this stage with the Wittenoom schedule causing havoc with the team lineup, Ranbir became a very "useful" member of the team. When the preliminary matches were over and team shuffling ended, the team finished 2nd on the table and was to play Sacred Heart for a place in the final. Main team members during the season were Stuart Ledder, Shane Cassey, Peter Scotford, Ranbir Singh and Ben Laden. The team triumphed in the semi-finals but it was something of an anticlimax when the well prepared Guildford side demolished the team. However, under the circumstances, the team can be proud of its achievements this season. Thanks to all who played in the team this season and especially to Mr Edgar for organising the teams.

The U/16 team of Bredmeyer, Barbagallo, La Bianca, Field and the Dunbar brothers won the Division II championship trophy by defeating Guildford Grammar in the Grand Final. This was a particularly commendable effort as they had not previously been able to beat the Guildford team during the season. The spirit of discipline displayed in the final match was of the highest order.

Athletics Report 1987

The 1987 P.S.A. Interschool Athletics Carnival, as in the previous year, was closely contested with the top 5 schools having only a 168 point spread. After coming from behind, Aguinas ran out winners with 1180 points.

Hale performed extremely well to end up in 2nd place after a close tussle with Trinity. This is the best result achieved by Hale in many years and it showed the dedication and enthusiasm evident throughout the season.

A number of meets were organised during the season including a meet against Scotch and Trinity and for the first time a multi-event meet. Hale's performances at these meets showed tremendous promise and many Stow Awards and several records were obtained.

The Inter-House Athletics Carnival was held in sunny and warm conditions. As usual the carnival was keenly contested with some outstanding individual performances. After a competitive and spirited day of athletics, Haynes were the winners of the overall and relay trophies, with Faulkner winning the Year 12 relay trophy.

On the first weekend back from the school vacation, the School Championships were held on Craig Oval. With a superb commentary job from Mr Hopkins and the morning tea organised by the Ladies Auxiliary the atmosphere was built up for the day. As a result many Stow Awards were obtained and records set.

After a day of high-level competition the age group champions were determined:

Champion Runner-up Open (Joint Champions) B. Slocombe and H. Gillard

U/17 S. Cassey M. Simpson U/16 P. Leuba D. Warren U/15 A. Davey M. Cassey U/14 C. Castledine B. Hantke

With the weeks of training and competitions, Hale entered the 83rd Annual P.S.A. Athletics Carnival with confidence. The 2nd place obtained was a tremendous effort by the whole squad. Outstanding performances on the day include: Shane Cassey's new school and P.S.A. record in triple jump; fine all round efforts by Brett Slocombe, Heath Gillard, Paul Davey, Paul Leuba, Ian Hope, Dale Warren, Steven Brindal and Andrew Caldow; and the relay teams (coached by Mr Robin Johnson) for their one first place, three seconds and one third — this really reflected the team performance.

There were 10 records set and 62 Stow Awards achieved during the season and congratulations must go to these boys for their records: M. Kelly, A. Davey, C. Davison, A. Webster, S. Dethlefsen, K. Turkich, S. Cassey and B. Slocombe.

Hale's very creditable 2nd place would not have been achieved without the efforts of the many coaches during the weekdays after school and on weekends. A special thanks must go to Mr Greenwell and Mr Brown for organising and planning the training programme for the season.

1987 proved to be the most successful season for Hale in the past 20 years. With the same enthusiasm and effort next year Hale is looking forward to regaining the Athletics Shield after 47 years.

Chess Report 1987

1987 has been a year of mixed fortunes for the Chess Club. Whereas the senior teams fared badly in the Interschool Competition, the Hale Junior team of S. Bulloch, I. Healey, P. Liddell and M. Wiggins, swept all before them to bring home our first trophy in several years.

Captain of Chess: Ashley Hassell

Year 8 Competition: S. Bulloch — 1st. M.

Wiggins — 2nd.

House Team Champions: PARRY (Tenji, Field, Johnson, Pigott). Runner-up - STIRLING.

School Champion: J. Field. (Runner-up - L.

Pinczuk)

Interschool Competition Results: Hale A 8th (of 10) Hale B 7th (of 9) Hale J 1st (of 9)

Colours Awarded To: - J. Field.

I would like to express my gratitude for the tireless efforts throughout the year of Mr K. De Frenne. The success of a club such as Chess is contingent upon the involvement of the students and Mr De Frenne was largely responsible for fostering this, particularly with the Year 8 and Year 9 boys. It is no surprise that the club's strength was at these levels.

Although it is somewhat disappointing that there are very few senior students actively playing, the future of the club appears healthy if the middle school students continue. We therefore hope for further success next year.

Debating

1987 has been a year in which Hale School debating has continued in its growth to a point where this year over 60 Hale students have been involved in debating through either official W.A.D.L., Social or House debates.

The 1987 debating programme commenced with a series of social debates with St. Mary's in which both teams were given the chance to gain valuable experience for the forthcoming season. Hale excelled in these early competitions with results that showed promise for the year ahead.

For the first time, Year 8's were involved in debating at a formal interschool level. In the inaugural Year 8 W.A.D.L. Competition the Hale rookies performed creditably to win two out of their four debates.

The Year 9's fielded a large and enthusiastic group of debators. The squad of S. Bedbrook, T. Hewitt, R. Morris, C. O'Keefe, S. Patel, S. Thompson, J. Jooste and R. Smith all tried hard but in each of their four debates suffered defeat, albeit, in two cases, by only a small margin.

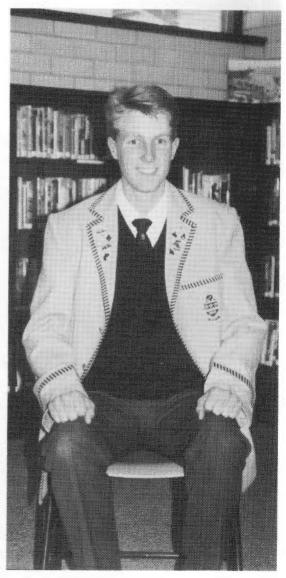

The Year 10 squad (D. Booth, T. Eyres, N. Flavel, A. Mallabone, M. Roe, F. Tenji and C. Johnson) improved on their previous year's form to win one W.A.D.L. debate. This win was their first in nine attempts but perhaps it will be the turning point in their collective careers. The group gained more proficiency as the season went on with D. Booth and F.Tenji showing particularly promising signs for the following season.

The Year 11 squad was the largest and definitely the most unlucky. D. Baker, M. Brown, M. Farr, S. Darragh, A. Johnson, S. McDonagh, G. Mussell, B. Zempilas and S. Rathbone were all without a win from four attempts. Their effort was however a creditable one, as on each occasion the margin of loss was a small one.

The Senior A squad consisting of Year 12's P. Maidment, M. Mallabone, N. McKenna, S. Bladen and C. Porter (Captain) were Hale's most successful team. In a very fine performance the team reached the Quarter Finals of their W.A.D.L competition, being knocked out by the eventual winners M.L.C. The loss was a disappointing finish to their involvement in Hale debating which for the squad members was five years hard work. Their efforts during this time are truly appreciated by all Hale debators and we thank them, particularly the Captain, Christian Porter, for his invaluable contribution.

This year the House debating competition continued under the new two-life format and was a great success. In the final, reigning champions Buntine (M. Mallabone, N. McKenna and C. Porter) met a strong Haynes team (P. Maidment, D. Baker and B. Zempilas) in a very entertaining debate conducted before the entire school. Buntine House retained the Davy Shield in a split decision result, giving them their sixth title since the competition's inception in 1969.

Thanks go to all those teachers who offered their services as adjudicators and to the invited panel who officiated at the Final. The House debating programme was a fitting climax to the efforts put in by Hale boys throughout the year in debating.

C. Porter

The members of Hale debating would like to thank Mr Steve Varty and his kitchen staff who kindly provided supper at the conclusion of each debate at Hale, and the team organiser, Mr Goldsmith. Mr Goldsmith's continual support this year ensured the success of the season and his efforts are truly appreciated by all concerned.

B. Zempilas Haynes Yr. 11.

DEBATING HONOURS

This year, for the first time, Honours were awarded to a Hale debator. Christian Porter, the 1987 Captain of Hale debating, receives the award after five senior school years of outstanding contributions in both public speaking and debating.

In public speaking Christian participated in the 1986 Plain English Speaking Awards (First Round); in the 1987 PESA he contested the preliminary finals, and in the 1987 Rostrum Voice of Youth he reached the semi-finals.

In debating Christian was a member of the W.A. team which finished second in the National Schools Championships in 1986 and he also gained selection to the Australian team for that year. In 1987 he was Captain of the 3rd placed W.A. debating team, and was again selected in the Australian team, to compete in the 1988 World Intervarsity competition (involving Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard and Yale Universities among 157 competing teams) this time as Captain.

To cap off his achievements Christian was twice captain of the winning Inter House debating team at Hale as well as having been selected to make several public speeches at various political meetings.

Christian's record of acheivement is truly outstanding. He is indeed worthy of Honours and the school congratulates him.

Computer Report

Over the last year we have made significant progress in a number of educational as well as administrative areas. Firstly there was the purchase of 14 Apple 2E microcomputers to be used for computing in other subject areas as well as for Year 10 Computer Studies in 1988. Also two Digital DECMATE III wordprocessing systems were purchased, one for the photocopy room (it is being used for exam preparation among other things) and the other one for the main office (this is being currently used by the Foundation).

Computer Awareness this year was taught to 135 Year 8 boys. The course consisted of one period per week for the 4 terms. As well as this, Computer Studies was introduced this year as a Year 9 subject. Thirty boys have been doing this course for three periods per week for the 4 terms. Subjects covered in this course include wordprocessing and spreadsheets. This course continues onto Year 10 level, culminating in the Junior exam at the end of that Year.

As well as the above Computing classes, three enthusiastic staff from the Junior School are bringing their boys up to the Computer Centre to use the facilities here. They are Mrs Campbell with her Grade 3's and Mr Holmes and Mr Cornwall with their Grade 7's.

On Friday the 21st of August the Parents and Friends held an exhibition of computer equipment from a number of computer manufacturers in the Memorial Hall. The money raised from this plus other associated fund raising activities by the Parents and Friends and the Ladies Auxiliary will be put towards the future implementation of a library computer system.

During the year, a number of Computer courses for Parents and Friends have been run. Each course catered for approximately ten people and included six 2 hour sessions of tuition at the school's PDP 11/24 mini-computer. These courses were held during the week at night from 7-9pm.

The Hale School Computer Club is open for boys from Years 8 — 12. The club meets twice a week on Monday lunch time and after school on Monday from 3.35 — 4.30pm. The club is run by Mr Dyer.

During the Year, members of the Computer Club furthered their knowledge in Computers and Programming in BASIC. Membership during the year was as follows:

S. Darragh, S. Rathbone, A. Day, L. Allen, J. Jooste, P. Kakulas, B. Evans, M. Vivian, L. Rollo, E. Rowton, A. Benness, G. Wheatley, M. Wiggins, T. Allan, N. Miller, G. Ison, T. Hewitt, M. Pickford, H. Jackson.

Computers in Education are a necessary part of the curricula and at Hale we are intending to integrate them more and more into the various subject areas as well as developing Computing as a subject in its own right. We would like to think that all boys leaving Hale could truthfully say they are "computer literate".

The Australian Science Competition

For the second year Hale entered students in the Australia-wide Science Competition. This year we entered 84 Year 8 science students.

There were no national prizes awarded, only state and school prizes.

The School Prize for the top scoring student was won by both:

Lee Allen & Richard Sewell (First equal).

State Certificates Of Distinction were awarded to students achieving 89% or better. There were 18 Hale students who were awarded these certificates.

State Prizes Of High Distinction (awarded to the top 1% of the 2522 state entrants) were won by:

Lee Allen (99.6%), Richard Sewell (99.6%), Andrew Benness (99.4%), Justin Sharbanee (99.4%), Graham Ison (99.1%).

Surfing Report 1987

SANTOSHA CHALLENGE

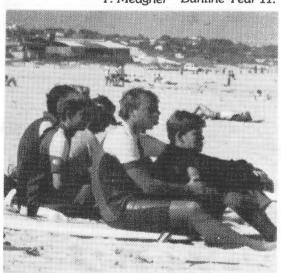

This year's surfing contest was held in fair conditions with the occasional good shaped wave. Twenty competitors took part in the contest for year's 10-12. This was a considerable number of people for a school surfing event showing marked increase in the popularity of surfing. The final was a very close event with Brook Palmateer beating Tom Meagher by a 2 to 1 decision of the judges. The event was well organised by Mr Hunn and Mr Moir. Thanks must also go to Santosha for supplying the valuable prizes which included a Peak wetsuit, legrope and boardcover.

Results: 1st B. Palmateer 2nd T. Meagher 3rd C. Humphrys 4th J. Viner.

Interschool Surfing

The introduction of a new format of school surfing took place in fourth term against Aquinas. The contest was named a Private Schools Surfing Invitation and this event was the first of its kind to be run amongst private schools. The trial event against Aquinas resulted in a 13-4 win to Hale. The conditions were very poor but some skilled surfing was shown by both teams although Hale was clearly the more skilful. Other private schools are now keen to take part in a P.S.S.I event, so it is hoped that a 1988 season may commence. The team for Hale was: T. Meagher, C. Humphrys, B. Palmateer, S. Bedbrook and R. Hobson.

T. Meagher Buntine Year 11.

Christian Fellowship Groups

This year two groups met on a regular basis. The Year 8, 9 and 10 Inter School Christian Fellowship group met on Tuesday lunchtimes and the Year 11 and 12 Christian Discussion Group gave up their Thursday lunchtimes.

As well as our regular meetings we enjoyed two barbecues with the St. Mary's I.S.C.F. group and a film afternoon in their lecture theatre. Some members of the group also attended two "Rock Musters" in the Christ Church Grammer Chapel.

Next year we are looking forward to expanding, God willing, to include a couple of camps and a great deal more fellowship with other schools. The invitation is extended to all. My thanks also to Mr Arkle and Mr White for their support throughout the year.

Sail training on S.T.S. Leeuwin — A Tall Test.

Leaving Carnavon Yacht Club in a cray boat, I was confronted with a sight I doubt I will ever forget. At the same time, thoughts of the forthcoming ten days were mystifying; preconceptions . . . I had none.

Once on board the "Blue Barquentine" all ideas of a holiday were lost. After introductions and the captain's (Master Richard Grono) greeting; "Don't fall overboard — it causes me paper work, and I hate paper work!"

Learning to sail and survive — both were achieved, the latter more importantly. All trainees were divided into watches (Blue, Red, Green and White), consisting of about 9 trainees and a watch leader. A bond is formed of respect with other members in your watch as the rigorous daily routine is attended to.

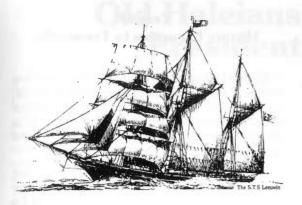

The routine: Sunrise — Morning watch: scrub decks and polish brass. 0001 — Middle watchmen report to poop. 0400 — Morning watchmen report to poop. 0615 — Call day worker. 0645 — Call forenoon watch. 0700 — Breakfast. 0730 — Call middle watch. 0800 — Breakfast ends. 0830 — Morning and middle watch to clean cabins. 0900 — Clean cabins. 0900-0930 Emergency drills. 0930-1130 Work/instruction/training. 1200 — Lunch/afternoon watch to poop. 1300 — Work/instruction/training. 1600 — Leeuwin sports/1st dog watch. 1800 — Last dog watch/dinner. 2000 — First watch to poop.

While all this is being carried out the ship remains sailing. The main aim of the Leeuwin is not to teach people how to sail a tall ship. Similar to Hale's Wittenoom programme, it aims to force people to work together in trying conditions and foster a feeling of cameraderie amoung a group of people who were total strangers before joining the ship. Discipline is fairly loose and as reiterated at the start of the voyage "you only get back what you put in". Realizing your potential and gaining confidence are important facets of the journey, whether it be furling the top gallant square sail some 108ft above the deck in a 10 metre swell or guiding the vessel through a libe. The experience is one which has certainly been beneficial for me and I'm sure to anyone else who has shared the experience.

S. McDonagh. — Parry Yr. 11.

Sail Training The Call of The Sea

For hundreds of years the adventurous have run away to sea. They have sought the thrills and excitement of legendary ships' tales. The most memorable tales are about the tall ships and the men who sailed in them to discover the world. A voyage in a windjammer was the adventure of a lifetime. A sailor's life is still exciting but steam and technology has taken away much of the adventure.

SAIL AWAY TO ADVENTURE

The STS Leeuwin provides opportunities for Western Australia's youth to take to the sea in a traditional sailing ship. And the adventure and excitement will still be there. On board they will learn old crafts and skills, but more importantly, they will learn about themselves. They will also make new contacts; mates who have shared an exhilarating adventure. The reward of this experience is the development of a certain maturity, a reward which can remain for a lifetime. Sail training inspires a spirit of adventurous co-operation. It is an adventure and an educational experience. As the British Sail Training Association says so well: Sail training is not to train people for the sea, but to train people on the sea.

THE CONCEPT

Sail Training is a recognised form of adventure training; an informal educational programme similar to "Outward Bound". A group drawn from a broad cross-section of the community is required to take a sailing ship across 750-1,000 nautical miles of ocean in less than two weeks. Under leadership and expert guidance, the objective is:

. to create an adventurous challenge.

. to extend each individual's physical and psychological limits.

. to promote personal maturity.

. to convince people of the need to understand each other and to work together.

The unique feature is that one cannot walk away from a problem at sea. The entire crew must face their challenges together and work the ship as a team. "Sail Training is a concentrated dose of life which works".

SAIL TRAINING VOYAGES

The standard sail training voyage is of 10 days duration. Generally the ship will make at least one port call en-route and usually trainees will disembark at a port other than the port of embarkation.

Hale School is a member of S.T.A.W.A. (Sail Training Association of Western Australia). This year four boys were able to participate in ten day voyages, aboard S.T.S. Leeuwin, through the school's membership.

Tom Vogan was the first when in May he sailed from Albany to Fremantle. In June Mark Rose sailed from Carnarvon to Dampier. In September Sam McDonagh sailed from Carnarvon to Fremantle and Ashley Rockman made a round-trip from Fremantle via Bunbury and Rottnest.

In 1988 at least two boys from Years 10, 11 or 12 should have the opportunity to sail for 10 days aboard this tall ship.

S.T.S. LEEUWIN

One of the most enjoyable experiences of my school life was a trip aboard the Barquentine "Leeuwin". The "Leeuwin" is a three masted, 55 metre long ship, which is used to teach people how to sail a square rigged sailing ship.

I, along with 33 other "trainees" and 10 permanent crew, boarded at Albany to sail to Perth. Firstly we were divided into four "watch" groups consisting of 8 or 9 people. We were told when we were expected "on watch". Once every 4 days we were on day duties — cooking, cleaning, painting and polishing. There is a permanent chef, Jeff, on board but the trainees are required to do all the serving and washing up.

Our learning began immediately. My "watch" was the first to go "aloft" (to go up the masts). The first time is the worst. From that point on we were taught how to rig, set and furl every sail on the ship. This took most of the 10 days. We also learned to steer the ship, to tack it, gube it and we learned how to handle it under power, sail and also at anchor. Some nights we were woken up at midnight to help rig sails or take them in.

Fire is a dangerous hazard on a ship and we were trained in fire drill. We were taught how to use the fire extinguishers and the diesel water pumps. Using the high pressure pumps led to a water fight of course, and it was a break from scrubbing the decks. In strong winds some of us had to go up the 100 ft. masts to furl some of the sails. From that height the ship's motion is magnified and, in the big ocean swells, that was pretty nerve-racking.

Although the trip sounds hard, there was time for playing around for everyone. Major "Leeuwin" events are the tug-o-war where both teams are standing alongside each other with the rope through a pulley. The aim is to cheat the most. Another event is the stretcher race, using the fire stretcher. We were told where to go and we tried to do it in less time than other "watches". This course entailed climbing up and down hatches and moving about in the cramped belowdecks. We also hung fishing lines out the stern and caught some big tuna. We pulled them in when a killer whale came alongside.

Although the trip was exciting, it was good to get back home and feel the land moving under my feet, and to sleep in a bed more than two feet wide. It was an experience I'll never forget.

> T. Vogan Year 12 Haynes.

The Visitors

No doubt you've heard of many kinds Of men with such enlightened minds, That off they go in happy bands With bibles clutched in eager hands, Invade your home and ruin your day, "Now won't you join us as we pray?" They cram their foot inside the door Whilst oozing charm from every pore With pearly teeth and fervent eyes And sweaty palms and righteous sighs. "The end of all the world is near!" They hiss with venom in your ear. "But place ten dollars in the tin, And He'll forgive your every sin!" With much regret I close the door, As pamphlets shower upon the floor. Indeed I wish I had the time, X. Dhalluin To force on them ideas of mine! Havnes Year 11.

Year 11 History Excursion to Fremantle

On the 11th of May a group of thirty historians ventured down to the old port town of Fremantle. an ideal place to study the historic past of our state. This was the second attempt at the trip as the first had to be abandoned due to the postponement of the Head of the River.

First stop was the Fremantle Prison where we visited the prison museum. It was there that we learned that the infamous "Pegleg" was in fact a former teacher (from then on Mr Arkle and Mr Edgar were kept under close supervision!) The lecturer was very informative and answered a barrage of questions ranging from food to prison brutality (the boarders realised that there was in fact a distinct resemblance between their humble abode and the gaol).

As a group, we made a beeline for the Fremantle Markets. On our journey many a time did locals stop to inquire about the purpose of our visit. Nearing midday stomachs began to register complaints and thus Mr Edgar announced that we would adjourn for lunch. McDonalds was descended upon as was Cicerellos and Mr Edgar and Mr Arkle dined "al fresco" at an unknown location (probably Lombardo's).

After lunch, with interest and energy renewed, the party advanced to the Roundhouse, not before however Sam McDonagh came to terms with the intricacies of the Fremantle Council's rubbish bins - reminiscent of Don Quixote tilting at windmills. The Roundhouse is the oldest public building in Western Australia and was a source of great interest, John Dutry was sentenced to fifteen minutes imprisonment for vagrancy, loitering and assaulting a seagull.

More historic buildings were studied including an old pottery house and warehouse. The group then crossed the railway line and were told to travel to the railway station where we would meet the bus. Michael Simpson overcame a natural phenomona after washing his brand new shoes for a second time. The old horse watering trough was studied in depth as were the Elders Wool Stores. At 4.30 the group boarded the bus and so ended what was a most enjoyable excursion.

Our thanks are extended to Mr Edgar and Mr Lock for their organization of the excursion.

Old Haleians Association President's Report

This year has seen big things happening within the "Hale Family" and the Association has been busy indeed.

The HALE FOUNDATION being put in place has involved much work and I take this opportunity of thanking all those who put in considerable time and effort in the initial stages with lists, address checks and up-dating records. There is no doubt whatsoever that the Foundation is essential to the future of the School and I am sure every old boy will realise this fact and assist in completing the target of $2.25m. Response to date has been good and I am confident this figure will be reached. The committee of the Association, after due consideration, decided to become a Patron of the Foundation and were in fact the first to do so. The committee also agreed that the Old Boys room in the Memoral Hall should be used as the Foundation office.

At the time of writing, the Association's financial year has not yet ended and so final and precise figures are not known. It does appear however, that the Association fared well and will have funds of approximately $90,000. I take this opportunity of thanking our Treasurer, Richard Truscott, for the efficient and thorough manner in which he attends to the Association's financial affairs.

The attendance at Old Boys' Day was again very good this year. After the Annual General Meeting, members took the opportunity of inspecting the improvements to Wilson Boarding House and the new "L" Block additions. The library display of photographs of yesteryear and memorabilia of days gone by was also greatly appreciated. Lunch followed down by the pool in the blue marquee with the regular carving division — the Kelly brothers — doing justice to some juicy morsels in their usual efficient manner. Thanks go to Bob Gregson for the organization of the food, to Grant and Lance White for the arrangements concerning the drinks and to Rick Syme for the photographs.

The 1987 publications of the "Old Haleian" has again been handled by Errol Considine. His tireless efforts have enabled news to go to all current members, and to parents and friends. There is no doubt that the magazine provides an invaluable link for the school family. Could I therefore encourage all old boys to pass on news, pictures and the like to the editor to assist him in this important task.

The Rowers' Dinner was organized this year by Richard Truscott and proved to be a very enjoyable evening. There was spirited bidding for some rowing memorabilia with an oar finally being "sold" for several hundred dollars.

The Hockey Club is one area where old boys meet on a regular basis. Under the guidance of Dr Scott Blackwell the club performed very well indeed and won two premierships. It was particularly pleasing to see the under 17's of a few years ago really making their mark in senior hockey.

The Association again provided a scholarship in 1987 and the young recipient has made pleasing progress in the results that he has obtained.

Mr Martin Brandreth has been re-appointed as one of the four members of the Board of Governors who are appointed by the Association. Martin has completed his initial term this year.

There were two occasions in which we were able to attend combined P.S.A. functions this year. The first of these was the Beverley Dinner at which our representation was small. However, it was a most enjoyable evening. The speaker was Terry Gale of golf fame and some good but lighthearted tips were made available for the golfers in the gathering. The second occasion was the function hosted by St. Hilda's at which duscussions took place on such matters as membership, finance, counselling, publications and magazines. Although we are all working towards similar goals, it was interesting to note the many and varied methods of attaining them.

It was once said of a secretary: "While the great ones repaired to the dinner the secretary sat growing thinner and thinner, racking his brains to record and report what he thinks that they thought that they ought to have thought." While not all aspects of the above could be applied to Tom Hoar, he has been a tower of strength in the multitude of duties that fall to a secretary.

I thank this opportunity of thanking him sincerely for all his efforts on behalf of our Association.

Finally, could I thank all those who have assisted with the Association work in 1987. It certainly was busy but the combined effort of all has made it a successful year.

Parents and Friends Association Report

The School Parents and Friends Association Committee has just completed an exciting and stimulating year. This year saw a big change in the membership of the committee so most of first and second term was spent organizing ourselves and getting to know each other.

We decided that our main objective for the year would be to raise sufficient funds for the first stage in computerising the school Library. We believe this will benefit all boys going on to Tertiary Studies.

The second half of the year became hectic as we tried to put together all our ideas for raising money and social activities.

This year, as in the past, started with the social Sundowner run by the Ladies Auxiliary and was a tremendous success. I'm not sure whether it is because parents are glad to see their sons back at school or look forward to meeting old frineds!

Hale School P & F has never in the past run a major Raffle to raise funds. This year it was decided to do so. The raffle for a Commodore Computer was conducted in third term. The committee were pleased with the result and about $5,000 was raised.

In conjunction with the drawing of the raffle, a computer exhibition was held in the Hall. Fourteen companies, covering a wide range of practical computer use as well as games, showed their wares. The boys all had the opportunity for "hands on" experience during school hours and after school the exhibition was available for parents and the local community. This part of the day was disappointing.

For some years now the Quiz Night has been a major event on the P & F's Calendar. This year was no exception. The Quiz was held in Club Atlantis, Observation City. This larger venue meant that more parents and friends could attend. A record of #,5000 was raised.

In October we were able to hand the Headmaster a cheque for $7000 for the library work. This was matched by a cheque from the Ladies Auxiliary which means that work can start shortly on installing the computer in the library. Also we are providing water coolers for the boarding houses and many other small items to improve the school environment.

The committee has decided to give the Foundation total support and to that end we have elected to officially join. We will become a Patron, that is, we will contribute $25,000 over the next five years. Because of this commitment and our wish to continue providing the many small items that are always needed in the school, we are already doing the ground work for next year's fund raising program. I'm looking forward to letting parents know what we have in mind early in the new year.

On behalf of the P & F committee, I wish the boys who are leaving the school to start the rest of their lives every success and happiness. Our thanks to the Headmaster and Staff for their dedication to out sons' personal development and education. We are proud of them and our school. To any masters who are leaving the school our thanks and good wishes for the future.

To all the school Family Happy Christmas and a Happy New Year.

R. Reading President P & F.

(Congratulations go to Ross and the Committee for an outstanding year's effort! Ed.)

Ladies Auxiliary Report 1987

1987 has been a very exciting year for Hale and the ladies on the Auxiliary have thoroughly enjoyed being involved.

We started the year by organizing morning teas for each individual Year in Senior School, whilst in Junior School a Year 7 tea was held followed by Years 1-6. The aim of these teas was to help mothers meet the mothers of their own sons' school friends and were appreciated by all who attended.

At the end of first Term morning tea, we were pleased to receive a surprise invitation to the Full Assembly. We almost literally dropped our cups and ran to the Hall! We would like to thank Dr Tregonning and his staff for this as we all enjoy attending our sons' Assemblies.

During second Term we held what seems to have become the annual Film Morning to which we received an outstanding response. In all 320 mothers plus the auxiliary ladies enjoyed the film "Hannah and Her Sisters" followed by a champagne and sandwich lunch. At the end of second Term we were again very honoured to attend Full Assembly for which some interstate grandmothers were particularly grateful.

During third Term the Committe faced a most challenging task. The Carla Zampatti Fashion Parade must surely have been the highlight of our fund raising year. The Committe was overwhelmed by the response and would like to thank Carla Zampatti (who flew from Sydney specially to attend) and our dear friend Jessie Zempilas for making the Parade possible.

The Ladies' Auxiliary received tremendous support from the School in the organizing of the Parade. We would like to thank Dr Tregonning, firstly for allowing us to use the Memorial Hall (which meant Assembly had to be held outside) and secondly for attending the parade with Mr Michael Gregg, the Chairman of the Board of Governors. The parade would not have come to fruition without the oustanding help of some staff members, Mr Ron Farrer (maintenance supervisor), Mr Bill Van Oijen (audio-visual) and the inimitable Mr Jeff Hopkins (compere extraordinaire!).

"Due to circumstances beyond our control" our Country Lunch plans had to be changed! Instead of the city mothers going to the country we invited the country parents to a luncheon at School. Steve, our chef, excelled himself yet again and we thank him whole heartedly.

The Ladies Auxiliary Fashion Parade

On September 4th, 1987 the Hale School Memorial Hall was transformed to present the 1987 Carla Zampatti Summer Fashion Parade. The tireless efforts of Mrs Dawn Trudgian and her Ladies Auxiliary Executive, combined with Mr Ron Farrar's team's construction of an extensive catwalk, saw the Memorial Hall rival many city venues that are used for this type of occasion.

Two shows were presented. Three hundred guests enjoyed Pineapple Caterers sumptuous morning teas plus fashion parade and two hundred enthusiastic spectators attended the afternoon presentation.

The models, drawn from Auxiliary Members and friends of Hale School, worked hard in long hours of rehearsal and were spectacular and relaxed (the pre-show champagne helped!) during both the shows. Thanks should go to Joan Pateman, Sandra Whybrow, Anne Jooste, Judy Meagher, Carolina (model) and Margaret Spencer for their efforts.

Carla Zampatti flew from Sydney to be guest of honour at the First Parade and was joined by Dr and Mrs Tregonning and Mr Gregg — the Chairman of the Board of Governors. The Shows were well received in the weekend press reviews.

In all a good time was had by all and the Ladies Auxiliary coffers were handsomely swelled. Well done to all those involved.

Japan — Australia

Although Japan has a very different historical and cultural background from Australia, its lifestyle has many similar features. The American influence after W.W.II accelerated the westernization of the country. To the Japanese, Australia is a country with vast land and abundant beautiful nature. The recent success of "Crocodile Dundee" in Japan must have contributed to this image. The spaciousness of Australia impresses about every Japanese person. Australia is among the most favoured countries to visit. The stero-type image of the Japanese with glasses and cameras may be changing nowadays with contact lenses replacing glasses and video cameras replacing Nikons and Pentax. This may be due to changes in technology.

Schools and students the world over have many similarities. In Japan, both the government schools called the "public schools" and private schools co-exist as in Australia. Both systems have six years of elementary school, three years of junior high school, three years of senior high school and four years of university. Private schools have entrance examinations towards which students devote much time and effort in preparation.

Basically there is no school bus system. Most of the government school students walk to school. Bicycles are not allowed in metropolitan Tokyo because of the heavy traffic. Others who live too far away to walk or who attend private schools use public transport, for example the subway trains and buses.

The average Japanese school has a home-room system. Each home-room teacher holds a short home-room meeting every morning and at the end of the day. School assembly is held once a week or so. One home-room class consists of about forty students, often divided into smaller groups for group work. Each group cleans up one room or area of the school each day after school. Students stay in their home-room for classes except for some special subjects. Hot lunches and text-books are supplied by the government. Most schools have classes on Saturdays but only till one o'clock.

After school activities and recreation include sports training, T.V. and computer games. Soccer and baseball are two major school sports.

When I first arrived at Hale I was amazed and impressed at the discipline, dignity and authority of the masters, which was not as obvious in the schools in Japan.

I find Japanese society as a whole is much more competitive than Australian society. In this hectic life-style I am afraid Japan is losing the traditional culture perhaps due to the ever present influence of western culture.

Prefects' Dance 1987

On the 15th of August, the annual Prefect's Dance took place in the School Memorial Hall. The young chaps and their delightful dates were greeted at the door by the dashing Doctor, before gracing the dance floor. Surrounded by a colourful display of lights and a romantic haze (smoke) the only touch lacking was the music. However, this was soon provided by the well known "Slim Jim and The Fats Band" playing a collection of tunes from the 50's and 60's. The attending staff soon had feet tapping and memories flooding back.

The enthusiastic band summoned partners onto the floor and they were soon grooving to the nostalgic dance numbers. With all this energy being expelled on the dancing — which was not cheek to cheek — refreshments were required so as to continue the night's activities.

To replenish waning energy, drinks were served in a marquis in the quadrangle and a delectable supper in the Dining Hall. Mitchell Morison strung together a few words and the troops returned to the hall to continue the ball. The wonderfully talented Ben Treasure, accompanid by a spiffing John Bilson, presented some humorous awards which even the staff could not escape. Following the John and Ben act were the tremendous trio — Sim Adonis, Gary "Gab" Davis and talkative Troy MacMillan who stirred the crowd on.

Back to the music and a top rendition of "Wild Thing" sent the boys wild and rendered the ladies bewildered and questioning this transformation within their partners. The night began to wind down but the atmosphere was there, especially due to the band.

Thanks must go to the organisers of the dance and to those who contributed to the decorations, supper preparation and of course to those debonair drink waiters who had the girls swooning.

Hale Fire

On Tuesday night, 1st September, fire broke out in the chemical preparation room downstairs in the Chemistry Block. The fire was started by a faulty refrigerator which shorted and ignited the wooden wall behind it. Fortunately the fire was noticed by a Year 11 boarder, coming back from the Junior School, who quickly alerted the rest of the boarders. Within minutes every available fire extinguisher was being used by the senior boys in attacking the fire. It is rumoured that some students had second thoughts as to whether or not a smouldering filing cabinet. containing chemistry notes and test papers. should be saved. By the time the fire brigade arrived the fire had almost been totally extinguished and the boys were obviously disappointed that their night's excitement had come to an end.

Only a small section of the preparation room was burnt due to the quick action of the fire fighting boarders and because the heat of the fire had burst a PVC water pipe above the fire thus helping control the fire. However, the thick, black smoke from the fire managed to spread to surrounding classrooms and upstairs by means of air vents, covering everything with a layer of black, oily soot including two computers, electrical equipment, chemicals and apparatus, and also managed to "wipe" a large number of computer disks.

The water from the burst pipe and fire brigade flooded the lower level and managed to seep down into the storage area below the room in which high jump mats and other athletic equipment were stored.

The clean up began on Wednesday and the lower Science Block was cordoned off to students as equipment was cleared out and the water drained away. By Friday afternoon everything had been removed from the burnt area and the carpets had been cleaned and floors repolished. However power was not restored until the week after and the gas supply is still non-existent.

Total damage is estimated at $60,000.00.
